In general, the work of the schools during the year just closed has been harmonious and profitable. With but one or two minor exceptions, there has been no abatement of the whole hearted cooperation of patrons with teachers—a condition very essential to the success of any school system. Whatever of friction may have arisen between patrons and teachers has, without doubt, been the result of misconception regarding the conditions pertaining to the particular cases of school government concerned.

I have no hesitancy in commending the work of the teachers, who have been actuated, not only by true professional spirit, but by a distinct human interest as well, and by personal zeal for the intellectual and moral advancement of their pupils individually and collectively.

The beneficial effects of the four years of graded instruction have been especially observable in the three higher grades, in the fact that the pupils of these grades have, as a rule, evinced greater proficiency for advancement, and in some of their studies have progressed considerably beyond the work heretofore required. In this particular the progression has been regular and well marked since the organization of the school system; but the proficiency evinced for advancement in these grades was more pronounced this year than heretofore, and necessitated a readjustment of some of the courses to accommodate this increased capacity of the pupils. A "side feature"—so to speak—of the work this year meriting special mention, was the course in manual training—raffa—conducted by Miss Tharin. The course was entirely optional and open to pupils of the four higher grades. The work was done after regular school hours. In addition to the advantages accruing from its distinct educative feature and the interest it stimulated in the general works of the pupils who took the course, the practical value of the work in the cultivation of a "home-interest" and the arts of home embellishment was distinctly manifest.

It is my opinion that the continued efficiency of the school system demands the retention of the present number of teachers. To render clear my reasons for this recommendation, I have placed near the beginning of this report—under the caption "Statistical Abstract"—the enrollment and attendance by department for the year just closed. A glance at these statistics will show that, although the number of pupils enrolled this year was 105 against 243 for the preceding year—a falling off of 48—, the average attendance for this year was 126 against 152 for last year—a falling off of but 26. Furthermore, the percentage of the total enrollment in daily attendance throughout the present year was 84.6 per cent. against 62.5 per cent for last year—an increase of 2.5 per cent. This shows that the attendance of those enrolled this year was more regular than for any preceding year. It will be observed that the average number of pupils to the teacher for the year just closed was 31 (120—4), the average attendance in two departments being slightly below this number—26 and 27 respectively—, while in the other two departments the average attendance was about this number—39 and 36 respectively. Thirty pupils usually being regarded as the average number which one teacher can successfully manage and instruct, it is seen that with four teachers the ideal condition in this respect was closely approximated. The attendance during the first term (three or four months) is, however, always considerably in excess of the average attendance for the year. At the opening of the school last year the average number of pupils to the teacher was about 40, and with three teachers would have been between 50 and 60, there having been at that time about 160 pupils in actual daily attendance.

The attention of the committee on repairs is respectfully called to the condition of the lattice-work under the school building, the gutters, a broken window-pane, and the condition of one of the out-buildings. Another area of plastering has also fallen—another of numerous evidences that the beltry and adjoining weather-boarding is not water tight.

In conclusion, I desire to express the appreciation of the teachers to all those—both patrons and school board—who have heartily cooperated and expressed Electric Car Line for Homer.

[COMMUNICATED.]

The J. P. Morgan Electric Car system is all the talk in North East Georgia now. Morgan, far seeing as he is, has conceived the idea that some day all cars and machinery will be propelled by electricity. He therefore is securing rights of way for his car system as rapidly as possible. His agents say Morgan knows where the money is in the future. They have already surveyed one line from Athens to Carnesville. Rights of way from Gainesville to Gillosville, Homer and Carnesville, were secured some time ago in the guise of a telephone line which will connect Gainesville and Athens. From Gainesville the line is to extend to Dahlonega and into Tennessee and from Carnesville into South Carolina and the Atlantic coast. The line will also be extended from Carnesville to Toccoa.

Homer will at last have the latest mode of transportation to the Coast and the grain states.

It is his purpose to have a competing line over the entire South. He sees the rapid development of the South and the certainty of the Nicaragua canal, and the final supremacy of cotton factories, coal fields, and iron industries in the country. We hail his enterprise as the initiative, in developing the greatest country on the globe.

The electricity will be generated from Hurricane Shoals and other different points—from the Tugalo, Hudson, Chattahoochee and Chatetee rivers.—Banks County Journal.

The late Rev. Hyatt Smith of Brooklyn used to tell the story of his little daughter: While walking along the street one day the child, who had the happy faculty of looking on the sunny side of things, saw a wagonload of sheepskins. "What are those things papa?" she asked. "Sheepskins, my dear." "But where are the sheep, papa?" The father explained that the sheep had been killed for food. Looking after the wagon, with the tails of the sheepskins wagging as they dangled over the side, the child remarked: "Well, papa, the sheep may be dead, but the tails seem to be having a good time."

Statistics show that, since 1871 the south has spent $650,000,000 for public education. Of this sum $121,000,000 was appropriated to the public schools.

A clash between the whites and negroes took place at Willington, Del., last Thursday. Hundreds of shots were fired injuring a couple of negroes.

A big gold find is reported at Selsburg, N. C. On the 24th the Whitney Reduction company of Charlotte, taken out six tons of ore at the Barrenger gold mine, in Stanley county, which yielded $20,000 to the ton.

Junco-bugs—sure enough bugs, have come. The kind boys 40 years ago tied a string to their leg and enjoyed themselves as well as those of the same age today do that have to have a fifty dollar bicycle to ride, a standing collar and a "tiled" shirt to wear.

The citizens of Blue Ridge district, in White county, have an elephant on their hands, which is the stock law, and are trying to get rid of it. Some time ago they were led to believe that it was the very thing needed, but have since learned better and are going to ask the legislature to pass a special act for their relief. We have long since said that the stock law in the mountains would be detrimental to the interest of the people.

Raising the buildings on the four blocks in the heart of New York city bought by the Pennsylvania Railroad for its depot has been begun. The four blocks to be cleared are bounded by Seventh and Ninth avenues and Thirtieth and Thirty-third streets, and not a brick or a stone will be left on the ground. The wreckers will tear down 400 buildings, including three churches, a hospital and a home for boys. The station to be built on the site will be the largest in the world. The buildings being destroyed, with their former occupants, would make up a small city, says the Savannah News.

Preacher Broughton's recent attack on the Technological school in Atlanta has let him down in the estimation of the people. All sensational preachers will soon be a thing of the past.

The overflow of the Rio Grande river last week above El Paso, has rendered hundreds of families homeless. People were forced to flee from the valleys to the foothills of the mountains.

A mob of fifty masked men stretched a negro's neck by the name of Jack Harris at Clarendon, Ark., last Thursday, for seriously injuring John Coburn, a white farmer. This should learn the negroes a lesson, that they must be have either north or south.

The most expensive and useless thing we have in each county of Georgia is the grand jury, which should be done away with and let the Justices of the Peace look after the business of their respective districts. Before the grand jury, only one side of the case is heard, and a fellow who is mad can manage to have a case made against you just for spite and if you have no friends to go your security you must go to prison and remain till court at the expense of the county. And when court comes very often the case is investigated and find nothing in it and then you are discharged. When if the case had been investigated by a Justice the evidence of both sides would have been weighed and all this confinement, trouble and expense would not occurred. Besides this, if a grand jury is disposed to do so he can reach away back two years and pull one of his enemies into trouble for some little frivolous offense, and shut his eyes at something of more importance done by a friend. It is a jurors duty, as a citizen, to make investigations and prosecute all violators of the law, but if he fails to do so he does not violate his oath until sworn in. This is the hole for him to get out of, in discharging his duties against a friend.

For nearly four years I suffered from ovarian troubles. The doctor insisted on an operation as the only way to get well. I, however, strongly objected to an operation. My husband felt discouraged as well as I, for home with a sick woman is a disconsolate place at best. A friendly druggist advised him to get a bottle of Wine of Cardui for me to try, and he did so. I began to improve in a few days and my recovery was very rapid. Within eighteen weeks I was another being.

Mr. F. J. Williams, who has been absent for some time in Tennessee and Atlanta, passed through Dahlonega enroute for his home last Saturday, who upon his arrival found his child very sick.

Little John Harbison went down to Gainesville Monday to see the path of the cyclone. Thousands of people both old and young have been to that city since its visitation from every section. The deaths caused by it number 107, the last one occurring recently, which belittled to be all as the others injured are fast recovering. Thanks giving services were held in that city last Sunday, which were said to be very interesting and attended by many.

While in Gainesville the other day Gen. Warner being asked by a representative of the Eagle about the electric line that was to be constructed to the Pyrites mine in Lumpkin county, is quoted as saying: "I don't know just about that. The management of the mines are worthless, practically so, without transportation outlet. But they want the other fellow to construct the road and it will take money to do that." Our understanding was that the Pyrites Co. proposed to help the Gainesville & Dahlonega Electric Co. build the road. The proposition wasn't accepted and the result is the company caused the Southern Railroad Co. to become interested and the survey is being made from Gainesville to the mines now.

Col. and Mrs. J. H. Moore left for their old home at Nashville, Tenn., this week. We, together with all their other friends here, regret to give them up, trusting their stay from among us will not be very lengthy.

The wire cemetery fence will soon be pleted. Where attention is given a cemetery it shows strangers at the first glance that the people in the town are not all dead, besides it speaks well of a place and proves that they respect those who have passed on beyond.

Last week Mrs. Charters and her son and daughter left for a trip to several leading cities with the intention of being gone about a couple of months. They will visit Atlanta, several cities in Virginia, will go to Washington, Baltimore, New York, Niagara Falls and many other points of interest before returning.

Last week a call was received from Gainesville for a lot of hands to do work. Several went down among them some members of the baseball team. Upon arriving at their destination they lit on a flying "Jenny" and after riding around a few times to the tune of Home, Sweet Home, returned to Dahlonega, causing but a short delay in the progress of the team here.

We learn it from good authority that Gen. Warner is absent now for the purpose of raising money to build the electric line from Gainesville to New Bridge at an early day. The most of the line to this point has already been graded and when the work of laying the track commences it will not take a great while to complete it that far. It takes a heap of talk and money to build a railroad and we trust that about all the former is done and that they will be able to get down to business now.

Mr. Doyle Moore left for Texas last Monday.

Last Sunday was Children's Day at the Dahlonega Baptist church.

We have a lot of old news papers to sell. Do you want any cheap?

Messrs. John and Hughes Moore went down to Atlanta last Sunday.

If you fail to receive your Nugget promptly let us know about it.

Dove hams, pork sausage and pickled pig's feet at C. W. Satterfield's.

Mr. W. H. Jones has been making some improvements on the interior of his store room.

Remember that we turn out all kinds of job work prompt, neat and cheap at the Nugget office.

Henry Parks, charged with blockading, had his trial last week before Com. Baker and was acquitted.

Mr. John Bennett, formerly of Lumpkin but now of Hall, was in Dahlonega a few hours last Saturday.

It is reported here that John Davis, whose mother and sister were recently buried in Union county, has since died.

Among the visitors here last Saturday, was Mr. David McKee, one of Dawson county's most wide awake business men.

The farmers have had enough rain for awhile and the miners want more, causing the weather man to be unable to suit both.

Most of the college ground was sowed in peas this spring and nearly everything over that way begins to present a green appearance.

Mrs. G. C. Wallace left yesterday on a two week's visit to McCay's Tenn., where her husband has been in business for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McGuire left yesterday for a visit to Blue Ridge. Mr. McGuire will go on to McCay's Tenn., and stay awhile.

Right recently Miss Marie Gaillard of Dahlonega, was elected second assistant of the Ellijay Institute, who accepted, and is now attending the summer school for teachers at Knoxville, Tenn.

Jeff Findley, John Tillson and Howard Stanton made a pleasure trip up into White county last Saturday and Sunday. They visited Nacoochee Valley, went to the top of Yonah Mountain, and attended church on Sunday.

Arveta Sullins, charged with conspiracy in the U. S. court in Atlanta, and who has been confined in Fulton county jail on account of a mistrial in his case, has made bond and is once more enjoying the fresh mountain air.

Mr. W. G. Campbell, who resides within a half mile of the court house in Dahlonega, has as large a sweet potato patch as many of our farmers. Year before last he raised 150 bushels. Didn't do so well last year on account of the drought. Already has more than four thousand plants set out this season. This shows what energy and industry brings about.

Uncle Eli Wehant, one among Lumpkin county's oldest citizens, visited Dahlonega last Saturday. He is getting old, feeble and blind and unable to get about but very little. Some years ago he decided his son, Willis, his land for him to take care of him the rest of his life. This the son, he says, has failed to do, and the object of his visit here was to begin suit, so as to recover his property.

Col. W. A. Charters makes a good solicitor general, but he will never be able to run the home affairs in the absence of his wife, especially when it comes to preparing meals. The morning after Mrs. Charters left for a pleasure trip last week, the Colonel slept so late that he didn't wish to go where he intended taking breakfast, and decided to get up one of his own that would keep him going until dinner. And what do you think it was? A box of sardines, some soda crackers and a glass of lemonade.

A number of visitors in the city.

Five fine pigs for sale by John H. Moore.

Mrs. Gunn and her mother left this week for Atlanta.

Miss Sallie Gaillard has returned from Nacoochee Valley.

Mrs. Charles Griggs of Florida, is at the Wheelchel House.

The new fence around the public school house has been started.

Miss Bell Tharin visited Gainesville this week, but up and out now.

Prof. and Mrs. Vickery have gone to Hartwell to spend a few weeks with relatives.

Mrs. Ben Whitmire of Gainesville, has been visiting sheriff Davis, her father, for several days.

Mrs. Dobbis, after spending a short with her sister here, Mrs. J. S. Stewart, left for home last Thursday.

Several teamsters with their wagons, will leave here today to work on the Seaboard railroad near Marietta, Ga.

You will find at M. J. Williams braces and bits, grind stones, cross cut saws, saw files, smoothing irons, &c., &c., cheap.

A representative of the Bell Telephone Co. is now examining the proposed route from here to Dawsonville via. McKees.

A telephone message directed to W. H. McAfee yesterday from Gainesville, stated that his sister, Mrs. W. B. Bell, was lying at the point of death.

Rev. Mr. Phillips, who has been declining in health for some time, left last Tuesday for Atlanta to see if the doctors down there can do him any good.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzle went over into Dawson county this week and seized a blockade still. He failed to get the operator but got three sets of false mustaches.

Now that the weather is getting hot any visitors wishing a place to spend the summer pleasantly, where the nights are cool and water pure, let them come to Dahlonega.

Miss Wilburn Antonia Smith of Belton, S. C., and Miss Istolena Estelle Harris of Murrayville, Ga., are visiting Misses Nell, Joe and Fannie Elizabeth Wallace in the "Marshes."

Mr. Arnold, the general superintendent of the Dahlonega Gold Mine near Auraria, known better as the Betz, was up a few hours last Tuesday on business with Col. W. P. Price, one of the directors of the company.

In the Supreme court the case of the Chestate Pyrites Co. vs. Cavender's Creek Gold Mining Co., petition for injunction, before Judge Kimsey in the Superior court of this county, has been reversed. This suit was caused by the former company cutting a canal and diverting certain waters running into Chestate river, above the proposed dam of the latter.

This week the news reached town that Mr. Peterman, who is well known here died in White county. Capt. Woodward being well acquainted with the old gentleman went to work and wrote a long obituary notice. Later it was learned that it was a false alarm and the Captain had to destroy the copy. No doubt it would have been interesting to Mr. Peterman as many good things were said about him.

The meeting at Mill Creek last Saturday and Sunday was well attended, showing signs that the community there is becoming aroused in religious work. The prospects seem bright for a prosperous revival in the near future. Last Sunday, under the influence of the preaching of the pastor, Rev. J. S. Blackburn of Dahlonega, there were fifteen penitents who offered themselves for prayer. There was good order and everybody sober. They also have good progressive Sabbath schools.

Mining Notes.

Work on the Cavender's Creek tunnel continues without ceasing. Mr. Jaquish is doing some prospect work on his mining property near Auraria.

Auraria has been pretty lively during the past week with northern gentlemen, who were down looking over the valuable mines. Mr. Crawford, the missing forman of the Greenfield mines, who recently disappeared, has not showed up yet. When last heard of he was at Ducktown, Tenn. Since he left Mr. Greenfield has suspended work on the mine.

The Singleton, belonging to the Standard Co., under the management of Mr. William Campbell, is giving good results. An addition of several hands has recently been made to the working force and everything is moving along nicely. The ore that is being milled now comes from one of the largest veins in this county. It is 12x150 feet and good milling ore, having to be worked by hand drilling, rendering it much slower than if other drills were used.

When Mr. Ainslie arrived here a few days ago it was his intention to begin preparation for the installation of a smelter down at the Benning at once, but being unable to get Mr. Maxwell, who is now in North Carolina, here for awhile, he returned north for the purpose of making other arrangements doubtless. Some time ago Mr. Maxwell was employed by the company to visit Mexico and examine one of the proposed smelters, is why his services were desired.

All who have visited the pyrites mine in this county, pronounce it one of the biggest and best paying propositions known. As heretofore stated, arrangements have been made by its owners with the Southern Railway Co., for the construction of a railroad from its line to the mine. The survey commenced some days ago and the work is progressing nicely. The Southern is in search of freight and here it will get it, an agreement having already been made by the Pyrites Co. to supply the road with a sufficient number of cars per day to justify the construction of this branch line.

The shaft down at the Lockhart has been cleared of its water and a lot of ore will be taken out now for a test so as to enable the present owners to determine for themselves its exact value. The work is under the supervision of Mr. Campbell. The Lockhart is said to be good property by those who have worked it, but the same trouble occurs here as at many other mines of this county, much of the gold is lost in working it. The proper machinery has been invented that will overcome all this trouble now, and work is expected to be resumed there very actively in a short while.

The frequent rains here enables Crown Mountain plant to continue moving both day and night. Although a clean up was recently made, the flame lines now begin to sparkle with gold again. Two cuts are being run now, the last one being opened out on what is known as the Sand vein, which is large and fine. The vein in the Wallace cut has also increased in size and richness, gold in the ore being visible to the natural eye. So if these cuts are run with the proper grade so the ore can be easily washed down into the bins, there will be no trouble in keeping all the stamps running on full time with a drop of eight inches, full capacity, both day and night.

The Huntington mills have again been brought into service and kept running when not being repaired. This is the great trouble with these mills. They get out of order too often to make them very profitable.

Last week the stockholders of The Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co. held its annual meeting at its principal office here in Dahlonega. Among those present at the meeting were Judge Shope, Dr. T. R. Cravens and Robert S. Disney, all of Chicago, and Willard I. Rush and W. H. Gray of Kansas City, Mo., and Joel T. Miller of Auraria. Nearly all the capital stock of the company was represented at the meeting by letter or by proxy, and the meeting was in every sense enthusiastic and harmonious. The following board of directors was elected for this fiscal year: Judge S. P. Shope, T. R. Cravens, Robert S. Disney, W. I. Rush and Joel T. Miller. The board of directors held a very harmonious meeting, and after inspecting the new reservoir and the work already done on the Ball Play creek it was decided to complete the ditch at once and do much other preliminary work, with a view of getting the mines in the best possible shape for a full year's work to begin on the place this fall and winter. Dr. Frank E. Bockius of Chicago, one of the most prominent stockholders of the company, came in on last Thursday and took a prominent part in the stockholders meeting and made many valuable suggestions about the working of the company. Dr. Bockius contemplates buying individual property here and making his home in this section. The company will build a commodious house on its property, near Auraria, and Judge Shope is contemplating spending the winter here in our mild climate. No company was ever in better shape than The Dahlonega Gold Mining & Milling Co. and we expect great results from the working of its valuable property before the idea of another summer.

A Parting Tribute to Retiring Pres. of N. G. A. College.

For six successive years President Joseph S. Stewart has very nearly approached the limit of his incentive spurs in promoting the cause of the North Georgia Agricultural College at Dahlonega. He has, in every respect, filled his position, and filled it with credit to himself and to the institution which he has had in charge.

On Tuesday, June the 30th, he peacefully resigned his office as president and turned the chair over to Dr. E. S. Avis of New Jersey, who will now assume the duties of this important position. We could not attempt to give full expression, if we were able, to the valuable service that President Stewart has rendered the college since he has been in charge.

As president, he has served with a restless zeal for the life of the college. He has displayed that vim and energy which is so valuable for the success of any institution.

When he came to this college it was in want of much of its vitality that was afterward shown by the grit and determination to make it a highly progressive college, which he made manifest. While the college is sure to continue in its material and educational advancement we feel very much under obligations to Prof. Stewart for the high standing the college has attained under his skillful supervision.

As a teacher, he was foremost, and he was very successful in securing the sympathy and respect of the entire student body. While he was a man of true discipline and rigid in applying the law, he was admired by all.

As the head of the faculty, he has won the esteem of them all, and they recognize his masterly ability. Hence, it is to be acknowledged and regretted that they will be separated from him as an accomplished leader.

The trustees were highly pleased with him and he has been heartily in cooperation with them all the while, but for reasons of interest to himself he declined not to stay any longer here.

As a citizen of this section, as an educational leader of North Georgia, and as one of the foremost educators of the state, we regret that we have lost him; but as he has found it to his interest to go elsewhere we can but only extend him a friendly hand and wish him a continual success wherever he may go.

That Lynching Bee in Delaware.

The reporter of the Associated Press at Wilmington, Del., went considerably out of his way to put the responsibility of the lynching of the negro in that state upon the South. He was careful to declare in the outset that the mob was led by a Virginian, whose name and identity could not be ascertained, and that the affair was pulled off "near the Mason and Dixon's line." The "Virginian," it seems, did not lack for company, there being 4,000 in the mob.

Why this information? If the leader's name and identity could not be learned how did the reporter know that he was a Virginian? What was meant by the reference to Mason and Dixon's line?

These things call to mind the fact that it is quite common in some of our Northern exchanges, when a lynching occurs in the North, to refer to the habit as having come from the South, whereas, it was common in the Northwest long before it was known in the South.

The crime of this negro boy was particularly atrocious. He met his victim, the half-grown daughter of a preacher, on the public road, and he left her with her throat cut from ear to ear. The people in the neighborhood petitioned the court to give a speedy trial, but the judge refused the request and put the case off until October.

The truth is, human passions and human weakness are pretty much the same all over the world, but the self-righteous in the pride of their own sanctity, are blind to the fact.—Macon Telegraph.

One of our greatest agriculturalists says: "Success in the sense of accumulating wealth depends upon the degree of productiveness of the soil and knowing how to manage it so as to develop its greatest possibilities. Half a century ago the farmer who got a few thousand dollars ahead could loan it on mortgage security at 10 per cent interest and a bonus, and he grew rich very rapidly; while to day he may not realize over 4 per cent net, after paying the tax, so that now money will earn more if judiciously invested in stock and fertilizers for the farm, this method making the land grow more valuable from year to year. Farming cannot be successfully carried on as it used to be when the original fertility of the soil was sufficient to produce good crops. With beginners there is generally an ambition to do too much. A small farm well managed will yield a greater profit than a large, improperly cultivated one. There is too common a disposition to commence where a successful ancestor left off. Each generation must learn its own lesson of life from actual experience."

An exchange wisely says: "The newspaper is a wide field and full of roses and thorns. When you roast the ungodly, the preacher smiles; if you roast the saloons, the teetotaler smiles; if you roast the teetotaler, the saloon men set them up; if you swear you are a wicked man; if you have any opinion you get cussed, and if you don't, you are nonentity. The preacher knows one thing, the saloon men and gamblers another, but the journalist is expected to know everything. He is the best man and the worst man in the community."

Young man, do not take up the study of medicine unless you are morally certain that you are fitted for carving out for yourself a brilliant future in that profession. About 12,500 medical graduates are being turned out by the colleges each year, while there is need of only about 2,500, according to one of our most distinguished practitioners. Better stay at home on the farm, where brain, brawn and energy will always win its own reward. The well-to-do farmer of today is the most independent man on the green foot-stool.

On Telling the Truth.

Like many other men Archie plays poker once in a while, but his wife's disapproval of it is generally well voiced and insistent, says the New York Sun. He had an engagement for a little party one Saturday night a while ago. He lost $66, and as he had $100 with him when he started out he had just $34 left when he got home. It was 3 o'clock and rather than be suspected of more serious offenses he confessed that he'd been playing poker. Taking at tip from a friend who uses that means successfully, he put the $34 down on the chiffonier and said:

"My dear, I'm going to give you this $34 that I won tonight. I had a pleasant evening, and a profitable one. You can buy yourself something nice with this."

But madame declared that she would never touch such ill-gotten money, and so he agreed to buy her a $85 jardiniere that she had been wanting and a piece of dress goods. The next morning Mrs. Archie called him to find out if he was going to church with her. He begged off. When she came home he was dressing.

"Did you take the money off the dresser?" he asked.

"Yes," she said. "I wasn't going to have any gambling money around here, so I gave it to the aid society at church this morning."

The poker game's total cost to Archie was $66 lost, $34 to the aid society and $80 in presents.

Hard to Decide.

There is a story going the rounds of the Western papers about twin brothers, one of whom was dejected and was ordered by the court to be committed to any asylum. The other brother accompanied him to the institution. Soon after the twin brothers had arrived at the asylum the sheriff received a telegram from the superintendent, saying: "Two men who look just alike here from your county, one for commitment. One is talking of building a railroad to the moon and the other says the Republican party is opposed to trusts. Which is the crazy man?"

Saved From Death After Four Years

Of Nervous Prostration and Debility.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Me Permanently.

Nervous prostration is the most serious of nervous disorders. It arises from some extra strain, which robs the nerve of strength, vitality and life. The patient speedily loses self-control, is subject to frequent headaches, faint spells, melancholia and morbid tendencies. Too weak to drag the thin, wasted body around; unable to get sleep or rest, life seems scarcely worth the living; the mind frequently broods until it becomes unbalanced and instantly often results. Read what Dr. Miles' Nervine did for Mrs. Grabbit:

"I was terribly afflicted with nervous trouble for nearly four years. I was so bad at times that I could not help myself, nor carry a chair across the room without giving out. One physician attended me for a year and a half without giving me any help whatever and I also doctored with two others without any good results. My father and others wished me to try Dr. Miles' Nervine which, after lots of coaxing I did. I took six bottles of the Nervine and some of the Nerve and Liver Pills. I was completely cured of my trouble and I heartily recommend it to any woman who is suffering from a nervous disorder. I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for headache and neuralgia with best results. I believe finally in the efficacy of the Nerve and Liver Pills and am fully convinced that Dr. Miles' Remedies saved my life."—MRS. HATTIE GRABBIT, Roanoke, Va.

A PLACE JUDGED BY ITS PAPER.

Why It is to a Town's Interest to Support a Good Weekly.

The average weekly editor usually has his all invested in his newspaper property. That investment generally represents from one to two thousand dollars. But it is worth more to the town than five times the amount invested in any other local enterprise. As a rule, the newspaper represents to the outside world the town itself. Poor paper, poor town, is the usual verdict.

It is, therefore, to the interest of every town to support a good newspaper. Not through local pride alone, but for practical business reasons. A newspaper is constantly doing ten times as much for its town as it could ever hope to get pay for—more than it could charge for, if it would.

The most prosperous a paper is the more it is able to do. Show us a good weekly paper, full of live local ads., with a general circulation throughout the county, and we will show you an up-to-date, prosperous, progressive community. And we will also show you a paper that is worth five times as much to that community every year than the editor manages to make for himself.

Show us a community that persistently proceeds on the idea that the editor of the home paper can live on the "pi" that accumulates in the office; whose official bodies think it a waste of public money to throw him a bit of public printing occasionally at living prices; whose citizens have come to regard it as one of their inalienable rights to work him for long-winded obituary notices and "in memoriams," with three inches of hymn-book poetry at the end, to say nothing of an occasional notice about a lost cow or some cotton seed for sale, and we will show you a community that is living from hand to mouth and is always on the ragged edge of adversity.

People ought to stop to think about these things. It is an important matter. It is their own good that is involved—the welfare and progress of their community; therefore of themselves individually.

A local newspaper is absolutely necessary to any community. It may be that the daily papers, with their larger news service and quicker facilities, may have overshadowed the weeklies; but the weeklies continue to fill a place that the dailies can never fill. If they keep the people of a community in touch with each other by giving them the news of their town and county, for that alone they are of value and are worth far more than the dollar a year that is usually charged for them. If they merely chronicle the progress of the community and keep the local pride and progressive spirit aroused they are worth still more—far more, in fact, than the town ever spends on them.

Beat this in mind: No merchant, no grand jury, no town council that spends every year all that they can afford with the home paper—whether that expenditure is actually necessary or not—makes a wiser, more profitable investment. They are not "giving" the home paper something. On the contrary, it is earning every cent it gets and more—provided it is a paper that is worth picking up in the road. And if it isn't that sort of paper, it is usually the fault of the town in which it is published.—Atlanta Journal.

Nigger Up, Nigger Down.

An old-time sport at the Hoffman House tells a story that records how Jake Hess, formerly a police commissioner—and for many years a commissioner of some sort in this town—once did Edward Gilmore, who owns the Academy of Music.

"From lack of other excitement," he told a New York Sun man recently, "Jake and Eddie used to sit up at the open windows of the old Brunswick, after they had lunched nicely and well, and bet on any old thing that came along. Sometimes it would be $20 or $50 on which bird in a flock of street pigeons would fly first, after lighting for 'grub.' But much oftener they'd stake a five-dollar note on which way the first black man would pass the hotel. One afternoon Jake would take nigger up for his, and Ed would have nigger down. Generally they broke about even.

"One day Jake's colored cook asked him if she could have the next day off. Her mother was dead and the funeral was set for the next day. Jake gave her $50 toward the funeral expenses, and told her she might take two days off. Then he said:

"Now, Annie, I am very much interested in your folks, and I'd like to see the funeral, but I can't get away from business. As the funeral is going across the Long Island ferry at Thirty-fourth street, suppose you have it drive up Fifth avenue to Thirty-fourth street. My business is at the Brunswick Hotel. If you do that I can see what kind of a funeral your mammy has."

"The cook was delighted with the suggestion, and with $50. That afternoon Jake picked nigger up for his. He and Ed, were sitting at one of the big windows enjoying their cigars after lunch when the funeral came in sight. Jake almost swallowed his cigar when he saw the look that came on Ed's face. There were three hundred niggers in that funeral procession. Gilmore pleaded that a game had been played on him, and they compromised on fifty niggers, or $250."

Why Is It Thus.

During revivals, some people seem very anxious for sinners to be converted. They labor day and night to this end. They leave no stone unturned. They make personal appeals and use all methods regarded as prudent and sometimes, we fear go beyond the limits of prudence, to bring sinners under the influence of the meeting. Their interest is so intense, that they will almost go crazy if sinners are not saved. The meeting at their church closes and a meeting at another branch of the christian church begins in the same community, laboring for the same result—the salvation of sinners. But these parties who, a few days ago were about to go crazy, are not interested now. Their meeting closed. Their labors cease. Their ardor is dampened. They manifest no concern. Sinners may die and go to the devil for all they care. Indeed, this is preferable to being saved in a revival at another church. Sinners are not fools. They have common sense like other people. They see and know the motives that prompt such conduct. This applies to whom it applies.—Harmony Grove Citizen.

A Word for Dad.

We happened in a home the other night, and over the parlor door saw the legend worked in letters of red. "What is a home without a 'mother'?" Across the room was another brief, "God bless our home."

Now, what's the matter with "God bless our dad"? He gets up early, lights the fire, boils an egg, grabs his dinner pail and wipes off the dew of the dawn with his boots while many a mother is sleeping. He makes the weekly hand-out to the butcher, the grocer, the milk and baker, and his little pile is badly worn before he has been home an hour. He stands off the bullfinch and keeps the rent paid up.

If there a noise during the night dad is kicked in the back and made to go down stairs to find the burglar and kill him. Mother darts the socks, but dad buys the socks in the first place, and the needles and the yarn afterwards. Mother does up the fruit; well, but dad buys it all, and jars and sugar cost like the mischief.

Dad buys chickens for the Sunday dinner, carves them himself and crawls the neck from the ruins after every one else is served. "What is home without a mother?" Yes, that is all right; but "what is a home without a father?" Ten chances to one it is a boarding house, father is under a slab, and the landlady is the widow. Dad, here's to you; you've got your faults—you may have many of 'em—but we will miss you when you're gone.

To the above may be properly added the question of a kindergarten teacher to her class—"What animal supplies you with food and leather for your shoes?" and the reply of a bright little boy—"Father."—Stephens county (Mo.) Reville.

The Right Sort of Talk.

The following clipping taken from the Schley County News should be read and carefully considered by every farmer in Georgia:

"This thing of letting another section of the country feed the southern people, who would starve to death if the railroad communication with the west was cut off, seems curious and unnatural. Some of the Georgia towns have been complaining of meat famines during the past few days, owing to the delay in getting meat through from Kansas City and other western points. It is an unnatural state of affairs. True, the south clothes the rest of the world, but with such a fine climate and such good land and also feed itself."

The health seeker will not find a more desirable and pleasant place than Dahloha to spend the summer. Pure water and delightful mountain scenery makes the place attractive. Come. Ample accommodations can be had at either hotel or private boarding houses at reasonable terms.

The series of happy reunions of certain parties in Dahloha, commencing Saturday night, would keep the old women talking the rest of the summer if they knew what we did, but as some of the sensational preachers are being brought to law for what they have said we will be quiet until their cases are disposed of.

The 4th of July passed off in Dahloha very quiet. A few sand crackers were popped and the bank was the only place where the day was observed by the closing of its doors. Quite a difference now and thirty or forty years ago here. Then the town was full of people. Big muster and barbecues occurred and elder and ginger cake wagons stood on every corner. More than half dozen barrooms were open and men drunk and fought like cats.

Making blockade liquor is a risky business by all who go into it. They are continually being disturbed by the reporters and revenue officers. Then again, after following it for years, some of them often turn against their neighbors and friends, join the revenue and go to reporting. We know of one in the latter occupation now who followed making blockade liquor for fourteen years and when he got into the business caused all his former companions and associates into trouble. Such is life.

For some time the blockaders, while manufacturing liquor in this section, would add water and potash, which gets the man's stomach in bad shape who use it, but we never heard of lime being used until recently. A few days ago, while the revenue officers were at an illicit distillery up in White county, they found a tub containing lime and water which was used in the liquor. Lime is good for a disinfectant used in a different manner, but we would hate to be the one who drinks liquor where lime is used in it.

We wish to emphasize the fact that those who come regular will get on the honor roll but they will be the farthest advanced when the term is out. We are just now beginning to do some effective work and we expect to continue, and those who come every day will be the ones who will be the most benefited.

Nimblewill News.

Crops are growing fine now in these parts. Some of the farmers are beginning to lay by.

Mr. Lincoln Wehant and Miss Birtie Stone were united in the holy bonds of matrimony Sunday, Rev. S. M. Grizzle officiating. Christopher Wafford is very dangerously hurt, not likely to live.

Mrs. Nancy Lingerfelt is very sick but hope she will be all right soon.

A few gallons of blockade liquor were brought to Dahloha on the 4th but there didn't seem to be much demand for it and the manufacturer had to carry the most of it back.

Mining Notes.

A lot of ore has been taken out at the East Mine for a test.

The ore being taken out down at the Lockhart shaft is fine and will pay well.

Crown Mountain is moving along as well as could be expected with the short supply of water.

There are six or more different parties mining down at the Barlow at various places, all doing well.

In addition to the latest and most improved machinery down at the Betz mine, near Auraria, a smelter will be installed.

The Sparks and Lewis Price completed their drain tunnel at the Ivey mine last week, and they are now taking out ore worth about $20 per ton.

As soon as Mr. Maxwell finishes his report another man will take the matter up and a smelter at the mines of the Consolidated Co. here will soon be installed.

A meeting of the stockholders of Crown Mountain Co. takes place in Dahloha on the 18th inst., at 12 o'clock. Business of importance is to be transacted.

The first clean up of the Ingersoll and Crisson dredge boat, operating in the Chestatee, river has been made and the results are very satisfactory, says Capt. Ingersoll.

The ore fifty feet below the surface outside of the Twelve Foot vein, down at the Lockhart mine makes an average of $10 per ton. This is claimed by the natives here to be one of the best mines in this country. The veins grow larger and richer as they are followed.

It is very probable now that the water of the Hand canal will be extended to the Barlow mine again very soon. Messrs. Tregents, who are operating the Barlow, have a movement in this direction now. This is good property and all it needs is plenty of water to operate it.

Up at Cavender's Creek mine the cutting of the long tunnel, which has been in progress for some time, has been abandoned and a new and more practicable route taken up. The new survey requires the cutting of about a thousand feet more canal than the old line and two tunnels of about the same length as the old one, but it is thought that all the work can be completed and the water put on the mine by the first of August. By the first proposed line it would have taken some seven or eight months to complete the tunnel on account of the solid hard rock. The work on this tunnel has already cost two thousand dollars or more and some three hundred feet yet to cut through rock. It is not believed that rock of any consequence will be struck in the new tunnels. The work is going right along now.

A Card From Rev. N. A. White.

To the members of Oak Grove church, I desire to extend my thanks for your kind invitation to preach in your church last Sunday evening, and I really intended to do so, but after preaching twice and riding 20 miles and not being at all well, I did not feel equal to the physical strength necessary for another service.

I admire the spirit of promptness in the invitation. Why not help one another and yet remain loyal to our church?

I hope to be able to be with you at some other convenient time, and I will appreciate, any assistance you can render in any part of my work.

Our purpose is the same, then why not help and encourage one another in consummating this purpose?

Respectfully,
N. A. White.

West Lingerfelt, a cripple boy, was brought in yesterday by Marshal Grizzle, charged with blockading. He will likely be carried to Gainesville for trial to-day if Com. Baker doesn't arrive soon.

Of Interest to Miners.

As the recent Supreme Court decision concerning a suit in this county is very important to miners, we publish it in full as follows:

Chesatee Pyrites Company vs. Cavender's Creek Gold Mining Company. Petition for injunction. Before Judge Kimsey, Lumpkin superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—1. The rule that this court will not interfere with the discretion of the trial judge in granting or refusing an injunction where the evidence is conflicting does not apply when the question to be decided is one of law.

2. Where, therefore, a lower tripartite proprietor files an equitable petition praying for an interlocutory injunction against an upper proprietor who is threatening to interfere with the petitioner's rights in a non-navigable stream flowing through his land, by diverting part of the water above the lands of the petitioner and returning it to the stream below such lands; and where it appears from the record that the defendant, a non-resident of the state, admits the contemplated trespass and defends solely upon the ground that the diversion of the water will not damage the petitioner to any material extent, it is error to refuse the injunction: (1) because the injunction would prevent a multiplicity of suits; and (2) because the injunction would restrain acts of the defendant that might with the lapse of time become the foundation of an adverse right. Civil Code, section 207; Hendricks vs. Cook, 4 Ga. 202; Pool vs. Lewis, 41 Ga. 162; Webb vs. Mfg. Co., 3 Summer, 789; Ang. Waterc. section 449; Gold on Waters, section 513; 1 Add. Torts (Wood's ed.) section 109; note 1; Pon. Ep. Jur. section 1357.

3. This case differs from that of White vs. Land Co., 96 Ga. 415. In that case the question was as to the measure of damages on the final hearing before a jury; while in this case the hearing was interlocutory, and the judge was without jurisdiction to pass upon the amount of the damages, the right to a temporary injunction turning on the admitted injury to the plaintiff's rights without regard to the amount of his damages. Though the threatened injury may have been such as to result in no material damage to the plaintiff, and through the commission of the trespasses would greatly have benefited the defendant, the latter should still have been enjoined for "the necessities of one man's business cannot be the standard of another's rights." Wheatley vs. Christianman, 24 Pa. St. 202.

Judgment reversed. (No further opinion.)
W. A. Charters and H. H. Perry, for plaintiff; J. W. H. Underwood and H. H. Dean, for defendant.

Millet.

July is an excellent time for the sowing of millet. A rich, clayey soil in a moist situation, kept in good till, that has been deeply and well broken, and upon which all vegetation has been kept down by frequent plowings or harrowings, are the most favorable conditions for the growth of a large crop of millet. Upon land so prepared one bushel of seed to the acre will not be too much in July. Earlier sown, a half-bushel will be sufficient. After sowing, harrow well with a light harrow or run a drag brush over the land, or use a smoothing harrow. Millet may be sown at any time from the 1st of April until the 15 of August. One good soaking rain after sowing will assure an abundant crop. It is a very rapid grower and a rank feeder. It will be ready for the mower within fifty to sixty days after it is sown.

Millet must be cut when it begins to head and before it blooms. To put off the time of harvesting until the seeds are ripe will be to ruin the hay, for when cut at this stage it is well nigh worthless.—Southern Farm.

Indians Eat Roast Dog.

A recent telegram from Haure, Mont., says:

Nearly two hundred Cree Indians, a majority of the tribe in this state, are taking part in the annual sun dance on the hills near here. For more than a month the red men have been looking forward to the event with glad anticipation, and now that the great dance has begun joy is unconfined. Glad in their brightest garments, and clean perhaps for the first time in many months, the bucks and the maidens have gathered, as in the days that are gone, to celebrate the coming of the new green grass and to show in other ways that they are glad they are alive.

While the Indian girls do not take part in the dance, they form one of the most interesting features of the show. Each one is clad in a blanket colored more brightly than are the every day blankets of the Crees, and is adorned with all her jewelry, which ranges from a brass ring to a handsome gold watch, obtained no one knows where.

The dance will last until the end of the week, when there will be a great feast, in which roast dog will play a prominent part. The dogs have been in course of fattening for several weeks and will be served to all the guests.

White men and women are allowed to witness the dance and the attendant ceremonies on paying a fee of twenty-five cents. In former days the dance was conducted by the Crees as a religious ceremony, but in these degenerate days it is run as a money making scheme, under the direction of Little Bear, the chief of the Crees.

The sun dance is known to the Montana pioneers under the name of the grass dance, and in the early days it was often marked by bloodshed, especially when the reds could obtain liquor. Now they can obtain none, except in rare instances.

Cowpeas with Corn.

The main corn crop is usually "laid by" early in July in nearly all the border states. It would be very profitable to the farmers if at the last plowing of the corn cowpeas should be sown in the middle of the rows immediately in advance of the plows or cultivators. In no way can the crop of cowpeas be made more profitable for feeding purposes. When sown with the corn at this period they have ample time for maturing before the advent of frost. Having the cornstalks for support, the vines and peas are protected from contact with the earth and the peas are kept in a sound condition throughout the winter months. After the corn is harvested cattle and swine especially will find rich gleanings throughout the winter months, and will need but little other feed if area of peas sown will average one-fourth of an acre to the head of stock. Sheep are also very fond of the peas and peas vines, and when the snow is on the ground will even burrow through the snowdrifts in search for them.

Quickly-maturing corn for roasting ears or for canning purposes may be planted up to the 20 of July in all the states south of the Ohio river and of Richmond, Va. This is one of the most highly-prized vegetables found on the table of the American farmer.—Southern Farm.

There is no one quite so long-suffering as the country woman who has just moved into the heart of a big city.

Excess

Of Smoking Affected My Heart

So I Had To Sit Up To Breathe.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Me.

There is nothing that has a more deleterious effect upon the cardiac or heart nerves than the excessive use of tobacco. Pain and tenderness around the heart, an oppressive feeling in the chest, choking sensation in the throat, discomfort from sleeping on the left side and smothering spells at night when the sufferer has to sit up in bed to breathe are the most common symptoms of a weak heart. Smokers who feel these symptoms and who do not understand their meaning should be warned in time, by the following experience: "I was greatly troubled with an affection of the heart, due I think to excessive smoking. On writing to you for advice I was directed to begin a course of treatment which included Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Dr. Miles' Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills, together with bathing, etc. I faithfully followed the directions given and am pleased to say that my cure is complete and permanent. Before beginning the use of your remedies I was so nervous I could not keep my hands still and suffered greatly from severe pains around the heart. Many times at night I would be forced to assume a sitting posture to get my breath, and for the time being it would seem as though my heart had stopped beating. From the splendid results achieved in my case I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Nerve and Liver Pills, and other remedies to all sufferers from heart or nervous troubles.—Yours truly, ELLIOTT HALL, Durham, Ala.

I used everything known to the profession without relief, until I commenced to use FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. After taking three bottles I was entirely relieved and cured. Service.

It is with our girls that this matter of a further education may well be considered. Will a knowledge of the higher mathematics aid her in becoming a good wife and a fond mother, which, after all, is the crown and perfection of a woman's existence? Will she be able to cook the better because she knows the Latin roots and can solve the most abstruse equations? It is lamentable true that the large majority of our girls can only look forward to a life of labor and toil as the wife of a man of moderate circumstances. "Only," did we say? That is the wrong word—the woman who fills that sphere and fills it well does a higher and nobler work than many a jaded leader of society, and her rewards even here are greater in the love and affection of her husband and children. For the girl, then, who expects to marry, it may well be asked if the next few years cannot be most profitably spent in her mother's kitchen and at her mother's sewing basket learning the mysteries of household economy and household management that will prove more necessary in after life than Latin declensions or mathematical theorems.

But, it may be said, not all girls marry and every girl should be able to earn her own living. This is very true, although it may well be said that higher education seems to be a hindrance rather than an aid to matrimony. How many women lawyers or doctors marry? It would seem as if more education made them more critical and harder to please. Does it always give them more chance to earn their own living?

Judging by the troubles of York housekeepers, and we do not believe they are singular in this respect, the largest field for girls who have to support themselves is right in the kitchen. Not necessarily as drudges, but as scientific cooks and managers. How many women right in this city stand ready to pay wages which, taking into consideration that board and lodging is provided, are on a par with those paid school teachers and typewriters? And such cooks are the most careful and independent of wage-earners.

We are aware that such a proposition does not meet with a very popular reception from the majority of our girls. To be "at service" sounds all wrong to the young American of today. It requires the hard knocks of life to make us realize that we are not as independent as we would like to be—that we are all at the service of others.—York Daily.

Breaking It Gently.

Young Wife—"Why, dear, you were the stroke oar at college, weren't you?"

Young Husband—"Yes, love. "And a very prominent member of the gymnastic club?"

"And quite a hand at all athletic exercises?"

"Quite a hand? Why, I was the champion walker, the best runner, the head man at lifting heavy weights, and as for carrying, why, I assure you, I could shoulder with ease a barrel of—" "Well, love, just hold the baby for a couple of hours. The nurse has gone out, and I'm tired."

Make Your Homes Beautiful.

No people on earth have greater natural facilities for beautifying their homes than the people of the South. So many indigenous grasses, so many native flowering plants, so many beautiful shade trees, such a long growing season, all combine to make the task of embellishing the home with nature's rarest gifts comparatively easy. And there is great profit in such work. A home without flowers or grass or shade or brooks is a home without inspiring attractions. It is too often a home without happiness and without profit. The exuberance of spirits that finds its outflow in the planting of shrubs and flowers and the adornment of home reveals a sense for all that is beautiful in life and elevated in morals. The employment of our leisure hours shows the bent of our inclinations. Where there are no shade trees, no patterns of flowers, no pleasure grounds with swings and comfortable seats, no magazines or newspapers to relieve toil or make leisure hours profitable, what can we expect the boys on the farm to do? For their pleasures they too often visit the country store, indulge in coarse jokes and chaffing nonsense, debase their sense of duty and diminish every day their mental horizon and lower their moral plane.

Make home beautiful and attractive, and every member of the household will be elevated. A country place should imply all that is charming in nature and all that is fruitful in field. It should be a reservoir from which issue the fountains of virtue, intelligence and hospitality. From such a home the highest type of the American citizen is drawn.—Southern Farm.

Starving Lowell.

When the horse is starving in the barn, sitting down and bemoaning because we didn't make hay while the sun was shining is no way to fill the poor beast's stomach. The thing to do is to get a hustle on, hunt up a kind-hearted neighbor who is willing to loan enough fodder to keep the horse alive, and then get to work and earn money to buy more. Fortunately, there are plenty of such neighbors around ready to help the man who will help himself.

Lowell is at the present moment in the unhappy position of the starving horse. It is therefore not much use for Lowell to bemoan the mistake of the past, to wonder why, in fact, she ever got mixed up in the strike in the first place. The thing to do now is to get to work as quickly as possible and earn the where-withal to procure a square meal. The Cocked Hat is a decreed lid. The Mailed Fist has sore knuckles. While the strike was being urged at Lowell the Boston Journal argued constantly coolness and arbitration. Had that advice been followed there would not be today a starving Lowell.—Boston Journal.

At St. Joseph, Mo., we had pointed out to us the house in which Jesse James was killed by Bob Ford. Impelled by curiosity, the admittance of 15 cents was paid and we found that relic hunters had chipped a hole in the floor where James' head fell when killed and the papering on the walls had been almost all carried off. Thousands of names of visitors are written on the walls until there is not room for other names.—Maretta Journal.

The Horrors of War.

While President Roosevelt is pleading for a larger navy and heavier appropriations on the Pacific slope, those who served with him in the late Spanish war are laying siege to the federal treasury in a manner that clearly demonstrates that, however deadly modern warfare may become, it is not at all likely to become less expensive from the taxpayers' commonplace point of view. No less than 34,210 pension claims arising in some mysterious manner from that war are now pending in Washington, and no less than 25 per cent. of the men trying to panhandle the government upon pretense essentially false. The Philippine contingent is said to be somewhat more modest in this direction than the battle-scarred veterans of Cuba and Porto Rico; but this is perhaps due rather to the fact peace has not yet been declared in the East, than to any innate disinclination to charge the United States Treasury en masse when opportunity shall offer. In the meantime, the fact remains that up to date no less than 63,000 applications for pensions have been received from the modest heroes who "fought unto" the Spanish war, and at the present rate it will not be long before 50 per cent. of the patriots who served their country in that momentous crisis will have discovered that they deserve a place on what is really the payroll of the grand old party.—Florida Times-Union.

Wheat Land.

The latter part of July follow ing land for the wheat crop should begin. The earlier the land is broken when it has a heavy growth of clover or peas, the better for the succeeding wheat crop. The green crop when turned under should have time to decompose before the sowing of the wheat. Otherwise the undecayed mass will make the land too porous for the healthy growth of the wheat plant. No work is more important to the wheat growing farmer than a thorough preparation of the soil before the sowing of the crop. If the land is broken in July, it should be double-disced or rebroken in September. The yield of wheat depends quite as much on the preparation of the soil as on its fertility. Thin soils, well prepared, will make a better yield than rich soils filled with undecomposed vegetable matter mixed with unbroken clods.—Southern Farm.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 16, 1903.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

The taxable property of Union county has increased $96,000 this year.

Hall county has 4,918 children of school age—4,188 white and 730 colored.

It is stated that Dr. E. W. Watkins sure enough has a congressional bee in his hat from the 9th district.

There is not a better weekly paper published in the south than the North Georgia Citizen at Dalton.

Although Pope Leo is not dead yet the Pennsylvania Grit presented a picture last week where they were burying him.

At Baltimore Sunday twenty persons were injured by a severe wind and rain storm, doing damage to the amount of $100,000.

The Bible conference at Valdosta, Ga., for the benefit of negroes, has come to a close. Maybe some of them will do better for awhile.

Things are now quiet at Evansville, Ind., where several lost their lives recently during a riot. There is always a calm after a storm.

For eight years Miss Willie Ray of Prentiss county, Miss., disguised herself as a man and worked as a farmhand, smoked and chewed both.

Winchester, Va., had a cloud burst last Sunday, submerging the town with three to six feet of water, doing thousands of dollars damages.

Last week a negro at Marietta, Wis., was nearly killed by a mob for walking with a white girl. The girl should have received a good dose of "hickory tea."

Two letters mailed to U. S. Marshal Downs over in Union county being misplaced and never reaching their destination, may get some body into trouble there yet.

The societies of the International Christian Endeavor of the world number 64,000, and the largest membership of any society is the one at Denver, Col., which is 1350 strong.

Miss Henrietta Disler committed suicide at Cincinnati the other day because she couldn't wed her brother. They had been separated when children and never knew of their relationship until a little time ago.

The heat was intense last week in many of the large cities. On Friday thirty-six deaths and eighty-three prostrations occurred in and around New York and Brooklyn. The record in New York that day was 91, Pittsburgh 87, Boston 92, New Haven 94, Louisville 97.

At Berlin a terrible case of a person being placed in a coffin alive occurred at Altona Thursday. In a coffin, containing the supposed remains of a 14-year old girl being delivered at the cemetery, the attendants heard cries emanating from the coffin. The lid was removed and the girl was found to be still alive. She died two hours later.

We are glad to know that some of the most prominent southern men have organized the Southern Book Company with headquarters in Atlanta. The officers are: H. B. Cabiness, Augusta Chronicle, president; W. C. Chase, vice president; W. L. Reed, Pres. M. & R. Banking Co., Manager, Manufacturing. They advocate the system of state uniformity, which insures the most economical plan of procuring books for children against trusts and combines. A bill for such a law is now pending before the legislature which we trust will pass.

Auraria Items.

Some places are dry all of the time and some places are dry part of the time, and some places are dry just when you make them, but Auraria is not dry any of the time. We can go and drive the cows up just with as much cheerfulness as if we were in the inaugural train of President Roosevelt, and we can enjoy the sound of a goose quack or the cow bell around the front gate as much so as the nabob of a millionaire enjoys the delicate strains in the parlor of a daughter on 39th Avenue, New York City. Dryness is a synonymous term to laziness and when a place is said to be dry it is in almost as bad a fix as the little boy was who told his father he was just born tired.

The family of Mrs. Ross, whose home is in Atlanta is visiting relatives here this week.

Mr. Bob Wood, one of our leading industrious farmers, is about done laying by. He is one of our "busters" and his judgement on farming topic is sound and substantial.

Joe, R. Byers, A. B., of Hall county, stopped over to see us last Friday. Mr. Byers is going to teach Plainview school in this county. We are glad to have him with us.

It seems that the girls are to be valued more highly in Lumpkin than they are in other counties, as a young man has to run away with his prize in this county before he can claim her. Mr. Gus Lemley and Miss Bell Tank are the last up to this writing to take their flight.

We entered this week on our second month's work in school. We have visitors nearly every week, some come to look on other others respond with very interesting speeches which are very instructive. We expect to make our school, if it is not already so, one among the best in the country. We are open for inspiration to all. Come and investigate for yourself.

Mr. Y. Abercrombie Bitten by a Rattlesnake.

One day last week Mr. Young Abercrombie was bitten on the foot by a rattlesnake. There was a mark on his foot by one tooth about an inch long, and about three-fourths from that there was a little hole made by the end of the other tooth, which he showed me. He said it bled some but the gash was not deep. He said he cut the snake's head off or mashed it to pieces and then took a piece, split it open and applied it to the place, and it actually drew all the poison out, which could be seen as it was coming. He also drank a little dewberry wine and got well at once. He said it did not make him very sick. So you see that there is a remedy for snake bites other than corn juice. Isn't that good for us poor folks who can't get $2.00 to give for a gallon? Thank God for the cheaper and better remedy. Meeting house folks can be cured of snake bites now without being turned out of the church for drunkenness.

I heard the Rev. Edward L. Stephens, who lived and died in White county, tell of a man he knew once who swore off from drinking in the year 1848 for life unless in case of snake bites. In four weeks afterwards Mr. Stephens was riding by the sworn off man's house and saw him roaming about through briar thickets and grassy places and when the preacher asked him what he meant he said, "I am hunting a snake." What for, have you seen one?" enquired the preacher. "No, but I am starving for a dram and I have got to be snake bitten before I can get it. I thought this would be a good place to get bitten."

So you see how it is. Some men had rather take their chances for life with the poison of a snake infused in their system than to do without their dram. The Bible tells us that wine is a mocker and strong drink is raging and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. So men ought to learn what the Bible says of strong drink. It biteth like an adder and stingeth like a serpent. Which is the worst? The poison of a serpent or strong drink. The serpent poisons and kills at once if not prevented. The other kills. Takes longer, but will do it.

City Council.

The City Council met again last Monday night. All members present.

Several petitions were presented to the body, asking for a reduction in the valuation of their city property. An error was shown to have been made against the Crown Mountain Co. to the amount of $1,906, which was rectified. The valuation against the Consolidated Co., Hall estate and W. W. Murray was unchanged. The valuation against the old Academy property was reduced to $800.

A motion was carried, allowing each of the City Assessors $15.00 for their services for 1903.

The tax assessment was fixed at 57 cents, as will be seen by notice elsewhere.

Representative Comer of Bartow, wants corporations to pay taxes on notes, accounts, stocks and bonds.

At Bloomfield, Ill, last Friday, a mob undertook to lynch a white man for shooting two merchants. This will be of no benefit to Book-er Washington in his lectures.

John Satterfield of Yellow Creek, Ga. fell into the shaft at the London mine at Ducktown last Friday afternoon and was killed almost instantly. He fell about 40 feet. Another man fell at the same time and was considerably bruised up, but it is thought he will recover.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St.,
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 7, 1902.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctor pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Surgeon Quater

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a man's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

City Tax Assessment, 1903.

At a meeting of the city council held July 13, 1903, the following taxes were levied for the support of the city of Dahlonega, Ga., for the year 1903, to-wit:

To retire school bond 1903 and pay accrued interest, 8 cents on each one hundred dollars assessed.

For the support of the city public schools for the years 1903 and 1904, 30 cents on each one hundred dollars assessed.

For marshal's salary 1903, 12 cents on the one hundred dollars assessed. For general expenses of said city for 1903, 7 cents on each one hundred dollars assessed, making a total of 57 cents on the one hundred dollars assessed of property in said city.

Done by order of council, this 13th day of July, 1903.

Milt Willis, an employee of the Tennessee Copper Co. at McInays, was killed last Saturday at that place by an electric wire. He was sitting on a trolley car and accidentally leaped back against a highly charged wire running the current through him. Efforts were made to pull him away, but all in vain.—World.

Elsewhere will be found a communication from Col. Price, who opposes the bill recently passing the house electing county school commissioners by the people, giving several reasons why. The Colonel is correct. Such a law would not only put negroes into the office of commissioner in several counties but place many more incompetent persons in this position than under the present system. It is best to let well enough alone.

After a visit here of several months, Mrs. Jasper Gaddis left for her home in Oklahoma this week.

The Gainesville mail was delayed more than two hours last Sunday on account of the downpour of rain and rise of Squirrel creek.

Mr. Sam McGee of Union county, one among our oldest subscribers, dropped in to see us last Monday. He reports farmers all busy now.

A little child of Dan Smith, which died at Ducktown, Tenn., last week, was brought back and buried in the cemetery at the Methodist church in Auraria.

Mr. David Wheelchel, who used to go to college at Dahlonega, died a few days ago in Thomas, Ala. The deceased has many relatives in both Hall and Lumpkin counties.

The price of flour has increased 35 cents on the barrel within the past few days, which will cause blackberry pies to be more costly to the regret of all country editors.

What's the matter with the horses? J. E. McGee lost one last Monday, and only a few days ago B. R. Meaders & Sons lost one. No cause given that we have learned.

Mr. Crof. Moore was up last Monday and reported the work on Dunlap dam as progressing nicely, being high enough and in such a condition as not to be in but little danger of any damage during high waters.

Sunday was our birth day, but we didn't have as big a time as was expected. The rain poured down in torrents most of the day, and no one could come nor go, and we could do nothing but sit and think and sing of "Our friends over there."

Mr. R. Cain of Porter Springs, left last Friday for Brush Prairie, Wash., with the intention of making it his future home. Mr. Cain is one among Lumpkin county's best young men, who goes well recommended, and has a bright future before him. He has our best wishes.

We noticed one of our merchants this week shipping a sewing machine back to keep from paying the special tax required of all dealers, provided the manufacturers don't pay the state a tax of $200 per year for the privilege of their machines being sold within its borders. When this is not done each dealer is required to pay a special tax.

Some of the prettiest ladies' hats we have seen are made by Miss Jane Cavender of this place, out of elchuck. She also makes the flowers and dresses them and fixes them up so they can't be told from a two or three dollar hat manufactured in Atlanta, costing only from 50 to 60 cents. A lady bought two and carried them home last week to Oklahoma Territory.

It is said by those people who were at Smith's Chapel on Shoal Creek, in White county, that Uncle Newt Austin of Lumpkin county, prophesied to the satisfaction of all present. Saying some things strange, but true. He's certainly stands by the doctrine of the Methodist church. He says that it is all the Old and New Testament. There are troubles between two members of Shoal Creek church over a strip of land about eighteen inches wide, worth about three dollars. These men have been close friends for more than 25 years.

U. S. District Attorney Angier is spending a few weeks at Porter Springs.

A fellow walked six miles last Saturday here to get Mr. G. H. McGee to fix a pistol. Had he been a subscriber to the Nigger he would have known that Mr. McGee was out of town and saved his trip.

Last week in some portions of Lumpkin county the farmers didn't get to plow a furrow on account of so much rain, while at other places not enough fell to prevent them from going right on with their work.

We regret to learn that Mr. James B. Witt, who has been sick at McCay's Tenn., is no better. He has eaten nothing except drank a little soup, in near thirty days and is in a critical condition. We trust that a change will take place for the better and he will begin to mend.

Last Saturday Jim Bark and Hammond Allen of White county, were brought in by Marshal Grizzle and carried before Com. Baker, charged with illicit distilling. Both were bound over and committed to jail, where they remained only a short while until bonds were made.

In the upper portion of the county last Thursday to the right of Porter Springs, the rain fell in torrents for awhile, soon swelling the streams, causing a good deal of damage. A small grist mill belonging to Mr. Ben Sitterfield was entirely swept away, the hopper being washed a mile or so below.

The fellow who brings liquor a short distance from town most every week, sells it either by wholesale or retail. Recently when he came in a certain colored male member of the church dropped in and secured four gallons, it is said, which he sold at 80 cents per quart and made all the members in his vicinity who indulged, quite happy.

All who have contributed anything for the improvement of the cemetery are requested to meet in the court house next Friday night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of appointing a committee to see that the work is carried out right and the money properly spent. This is the request of Mr. Ricketts, who started the movement, meeting the approval of every citizen.

After an absence of some months in California for his health, Mr. Tower returned to Auraria, where he has some interests, last Saturday. On Sunday the gentleman came up to Dahlonega for a few hours with the expectation of returning to his home in the north for awhile, yesterday. Mr. Tower is a fine old gentleman and it is hoped that he will not make his stay away from us very long.

The cemetery is in bad condition. Many of the graves barely show. The relatives of those resting there now, have long since moved away, while others have neglected parties in town, closer by. Money is being gotten up by Mr. Wm. Ricketts for the purpose of cleaning out the cemetery and building up all graves needing it. Any one away having relatives buried here desiring to lend a helping hand in this matter can either remit to Mr. Ricketts, the editor of the Nigger or Col. Price.

Several of the parties who left here a few days ago to work on the Seaboard Railroad, have returned. They like the place and price all right, but didn't find it like home.

There are quite a number of lady visitors in Dahlonega for their health, all well pleased and perfectly delighted with the pure water, healthy climate and beautiful mountain scenery.

Very often people will go to church and sing, "We will meet our friends over there," who have none here, and how do they expect to have any "over there?" Such songs are not appropriate.

Dr. Wheelchel, Col. Baker and Mr. H. D. Gurley, after spending several days down at Cumberland Island, returned last Thursday, perfectly delighted with their trip. Col. Charters was also along, but he didn't return until the following Sunday.

Henry Edmonson was layed up for repairs all last week on account of drinking too much of some fellow's chemical or poisonous liquor. The utmost endeavors will be made by the next grand jury to bring to justice the parties who have been bringing this poison liquor to town.

West Lingerfelt of this county, was bound over last Thursday by Com. Baker, charged with blockading, being an old case. The young man is in a bad fix. Some time ago while at work in a well a piece of timber fell on him and broke his right leg, which grew crooked and he has to walk on a peg leg fastened to his knee with his foot sticking straight out behind. The offense occurred before the accident.

You can tell every man who went down to Cumberland Island fishing recently. His face and hands are tanned by the hot sun and full of knots, made by the long bills of those big mosquitoes which never fail to meet visitors on the first train or vessel. A person from the mountains here never realizes what a great country ours is until he visits such places down the country and gets among the sand flies and mosquitoes.

Geo. Corn didn't celebrate the fourth but had a big time soon afterwards in the neighborhood of Mr. Ashley's nice mine which he has been superintending. While full of liquor last week he fired many pistol shots close to Thomas Sides, one ball barely missing one of his children's head. On Monday Mr. Ashley discharged him and put a Mr. Yonk in his place. That night he went to his mother where Yonk was boarding, made many threats and said that Yonk shouldn't work the mine. Wednesday Mr. Ashley had Corn brought in on a peace warrant but he was too drunk for trial and it was set for 9 o'clock this morning by Esp. Worley.

On last Thursday while sawing shingles, Mr. G. E. Evans of this county, happened to a very painful accident, and maybe lose the sight of his right eye. While the saw was in motion a shingle got hung in it and was forced against Mr. Evans' forehead in such a manner as to cut a big gash above his eye, dropping the skin and flesh down over it and swelling so as to render Dr. Wheelchel unable to see whether the eye is out or not.

Mining Notes.

Mr. David Prewitt and others are working under a lease on the Standard property, getting very satisfactory results.

Riley and others are still engaged taking out ore for themselves down at the Hand, which pays. It didn't Billy wouldn't continue working it.

Down at the Ivey Messrs. Sparks and others are taking out some fine ore, which looks as well if not better than when the vein was first struck several months ago, paying twenty pennyweights to the ton.

The Singleton is still moving along with good results under the direction of Mr. W. G. Campbell, a native practical miner of many years experience, the knowledge of such a man being of much importance in the gold mining industry.

This week Wm. T. Hapeman of Chicago, through attorney, W. S. Huff, purchased lot No. 1194, known as the Delona fraction, which adjoins the celebrated Briler Patch property, said to be one of the best placer mines in this county.

Mr. T. C. Conoway of Atlanta, is back again and resumed his prospective work on the Newton lot which he purchased some time ago. It lies broadside the celebrated Jones mine from which so much gold was taken out of a vein years ago.

Things are progressing nicely out at Cavender's Creek gold mine now. The reservoir is being cut and the tunnel work is moving right ahead, and if no rock is struck the water will soon be to the mine, when placer digging will commence at once.

Squire Bruce still hangs on to the old Barlow property and by so doing makes money. The last three tons of ore taken from a vein down there yielded one hundred and eight pennyweights and twenty-one grains. He is engaged in taking out more now.

Mr. W. T. Bryson has sub leased the Pigeon Roost mine and will commence work next week. Mr. Bryson is one of our oldest and best practical miners and we may expect to hear of good results. He and Mr. Newt Davis cut the first drain tunnel on this property in 1896.

A short time ago Wm. Dotson and his boys, who are at work at the Ivey, took out seventeen pennyweights of gold in a day, one nugget weighing three pennyweights and sixteen grains. The gold was in a crevice and had been worked over and left by former miners a long time ago.

Some splendid ore is being taken out down at the Lockhart. The ore contains both sulphurets and gold making it of much interest to its operators, more especially the quantity for there is an abundance of it. One piece of ore weighing 150 pounds is now at Capt. Ingersoll's office, full of sulphurets and speckled with the yellow metal.

In reference to the Etowah Auraria correspondent has this to say about it: The Etowah Mining Company is making thorough preparations for work. They are installing new machinery and are sparing no efforts to have a first class equipment throughout. Maj. Arnold, their influential superintendent, has new capitalists over with him occasionally. Mr. George Cameron, who has been their assayer, left for Philadelphia Monday.

Crown Mountain, as far as we can learn, has run on fairly good time since the recent rains, which was a great thing for both farmers and miners in this locality. The Sand vein, newly opened continues producing good milling material, and a prospect of opening a large soft belt to the left of the Sand vein. We understand that positive steps will be taken to develop the Gorge power, which will give ample power to run continuously, and if so all here concede unanimously that Crown Mountain will be a success.

COUNTY SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS

Shall They be Elected by The People?

MR. EDITOR:

The House of Representatives, the other day, while under some sudden impulse, passed a bill to give the people the right to elect the county school commissioners of this state by ballot. I was not aware that such a measure was seriously contemplated by any one. I had seen the action of no grand jury calling for such a thing to be done, nor had I observed that any educational assembly, or county board of education, had recommended a change of this sort.

After an experience of thirty-two years with schools and colleges, I am prepared to say, that, in my judgment, no school law or amendment that has ever passed our general assembly is fraught with so much evil to the public schools of Georgia as this proposed change in the election of school commissioners.

I read all that was said by the friends of the measure, as reported in the Atlanta dailies. The proposed change will not remedy a solitary evil complained of. You might just as well elect the teachers, the county board of education and the school trustees by the people.

The remedy is with the grand juries. If those bodies were charged by the judges to look more closely and carefully into the selection of members of the boards of education, it would go a long way to prevent the boards from containing incompetent and thoughtless members. The laws representing the duties of the commissioners may not be sufficiently comprehensive. But, whenever you find an unworthy commissioner, you will find that the board of education of that county is likewise unworthy and incompetent. If the board proves to be unworthy it is the fault of the grand juries.

It may be, in certain counties, that certain persons, desirous of using the school monies have brought about the election of the commissioners, and it may be in certain cases men who have failed to use the school commissioner for their benefit now believe that it will be better for them to control the commissioners by the ballot system.

If the board of education will keep in close touch with the school commissioners, examine their books occasionally, and see that they perform their duties towards the country schools, and other duties required of them, there will be little or no complaint.

The commissioner of Lumpkin county has not borrowed a dollar for the use of the board, nor has he loaned a dollar of the public money. No money is advanced for unearned salaries. The teachers have all been paid up to first of July. If the state can pay for full salaries no money will be borrowed for teachers. This has been accomplished, notwithstanding the board of education of Lumpkin county has built more new school houses in the past three years than any other county in Georgia, except a few wealthy counties like Fulton.

If the commissioners are to be elected by the people, and go to the expense of campaigning then few competent men will announce for the office, especially in the poorer counties of the state where the salary is no greater than it is in Lumpkin—only $300.

It will be a bad day for our public schools of Georgia when men have to electioneer and fight for the office of school commissioner.

If you select good and patriotic men for your boards of education, it will follow that none but able, competent and honest men, will fill the school commissioner's office.

W. P. PRICE, Sr.
Pres. Board of Education of Lumpkin County.

Several communications were crowded out this week.

More timber men came in yesterday.

The Cure.

The Atlanta Constitution had an article headed "A cure for lynching." The "cure" is in the conduct of the negro. We guarantee that the negro who never criminally assaults a white woman, but attends strictly to his honest work as a law-abiding citizen, will never be lynched. On the contrary, we guarantee that the negro who places his lustful hands upon a white woman, north or south, will be lynched if caught, and he is generally caught. All the speeches that negroes can make against lynching is in vain, unless they stop the crime that causes it. There is the cure and only cure. Philosophize as much as you please.—Marietta Journal.

No Sleep For A Mortgage.

The mortgage is self-supporting institution. It always holds its own. It calls for just as many dollars when grain is cheap as when grain is dear. It is not affected by the drought. It is not drowned out by heavy rains. It never winter kills. Late springs and early frosts never trouble it. Potato bugs do not disturb it. Moth and rust do not destroy it. It grows nights, Sundays and even holidays. It brings a sure crop every year, and sometimes twice a year. It produces cash every time. It does not have to wait for the market to advance. It is not subject to speculations of the bulls and bears on the Board of Trade. It is a load that galls and frets and chafes.—Ex.

Described as Follows, To Wit.

"In making a deal last year," said a Detroit speculator, according to the Press. "I came into possession of the deed to a certain piece of land in North Dakota.

The value of the real estate was put at $600, and I paid taxes on it in January, and in February I wrote the postmaster of the nearest town to send me particulars concerning my holding. I sent him $2 for his trouble, and he earned the money. He wrote me back:

"Went over to see your land."

"Crossed poor road all the way."

"Crossed poor road back again."

"Most of your land is under water."

"What ain't under water is afflicted with drought."

"You've either got to wet it all up or dry it all up."

"Can't burn up or run away."

"Keep your taxes up and pray to the Lord."

"Glad you sent me $2 instead of the deed."

"If you want any further particulars I'll ship you a barrel of water."

An old bachelor bought a pair of socks and found attached to one of them a slip of paper with these words: I am a young lady of twenty and would like to correspond with a bachelor with a view to matrimony. Name and address were given. The bachelor wrote, and in a few days he got this letter: "Mamma was married twenty years ago, the merchant you bought those socks from evidently did not advertise or he would have sold them long ago. Mamma handed me your letter and said perhaps I might suit you. I'm eighteen years old." They married. Moral—It pays to advertise.—Ex.

An anxious enquirer wants to know why a newspaper is like a woman. The various answers given are: "Because it has to have some one to run it." "Because both have to be known to be appreciated." "Because both are good advertising mediums." "Because both have to be pressed." "Because it sometimes changes its dress and tells tales." The correct answer is: "Because every man should have one of his own and not be running around after his neighbor's."

The happy man is the honest, law-abiding man who earns his living and is contented with this lot in life. There are millions of rich men who would give all their money for the brawny strength and good digestion of many a poor wood chopper who works hard all day, eats all he can pay for, and sleeps at night as calmly as a babe on its mother's bosom.

Carrie Nation Says.

Street cars are not fit for decent people to ride in.

Woman, through vulgar dress, exposes her form for attraction—a sign a degenerate age.

If I ever marry again you may know I'm insane.

Love is the only motive which should inspire marriage.

Most men are so corrupt that divorces are permissible.

I oppose the bringing of more children into this wicked world.

Women, have your homes plain and simple and give your time and money to reform work.

Don't waste your few remaining years grieving over spilt milk. You can't get it back, and even if you did, you would find it clabbered. Learn by your past experiences to avoid the rocks in the channel, and you will possibly be able to sail very smoothly and safely along the lower end of the river of life.

This negro question is consuming lots of valuable space in the press of the South today, and unnecessarily so, too. To sum it all up, there is a place for the negro and a place for the white man, and so long as the negro remains in his place his white friends will treat him right.—Ex.

One person in every four has a weak heart. Unless promptly treated a weak heart will easily become a diseased heart. A little extra strain from any cause is sufficient to bring on this deadly malady, the most common cause of sudden death. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure will tone up the heart's action, enrich the blood and improve the circulation.

"My trouble began with catarrh and I have always supposed it caused the trouble I have experienced with my heart. I had the usual symptoms of sleeplessness, lost appetite, constipation, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath and pain around the heart and under left arm. My mother suffered in the same way and I suppose mine was an inherited tendency. At one time I was in agony. I suffered so severely and became so weak that my doctors said I could not live thirty days. At this time I had not slept over two hours a night on account of nervousness. The least exercise, such as walking about, would bring on palpitation and fluttering of the heart so severe that I would have to give up everything and rest. Nerve and Liver Pills cured me of constipation and heart symptoms disappeared under the influence of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. I am in better health than I have been in twelve years and I thank Dr. Miles' Remedies for it. I think they are the grandest remedies on earth and I am constantly recommending them to my friends."—Miss L. J. Corbitt, Waxahatchie, Tex.

Days Was My Life's Limit.

Agony From Inherited Heart Disease.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Me.

One person in every four has a weak heart. Unless promptly treated a weak heart will easily become a diseased heart. A little extra strain from any cause is sufficient to bring on this deadly malady, the most common cause of sudden death. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure will tone up the heart's action, enrich the blood and improve the circulation.

"My trouble began with catarrh and I have always supposed it caused the trouble I have experienced with my heart. I had the usual symptoms of sleeplessness, lost appetite, constipation, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath and pain around the heart and under left arm. My mother suffered in the same way and I suppose mine was an inherited tendency. At one time I was in agony. I suffered so severely and became so weak that my doctors said I could not live thirty days. At this time I had not slept over two hours a night on account of nervousness. The least exercise, such as walking about, would bring on palpitation and fluttering of the heart so severe that I would have to give up everything and rest. A Merchant Cured After Having Given Up Hope.

Foley & Co., Chicago.

Gentlemen—I was afflicted with Kidney and Bladder trouble for six years and had tried numerous preparations without getting any relief and had given up hope of ever being cured when FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE was recommended to me. After using one bottle I could feel the effect of it, and after taking six fifty-cent bottles, I was cured of Kidney and Bladder trouble and have not felt so well for the past twenty years and I owe it to FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. James Smith, Benton Ferry, W. Va.

A Veteran of the Civil War Cured After Ten Years of Suffering.

R. A. Cray, J.P., of Oakville, Ind., writes:—

"Most of the time for ten years I was confined to my bed with some disease of the kidneys. It was so severe I could not move part of the time. I consulted the best medical skill available, but got no relief until FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE was recommended to me. I am grateful to be able to say that it entirely cured me."

Right this way if you need any kind of blanks. We have them on hand, cheap.

The crops of this county are looking fine now and a big yield will be made if they are not injured later.

A good deal of corn, meal and fodder is being hauled here from Hall county. Also from Dawson, carrying much of the money away that could go to resident farmers if they would manage right, by devoting their entire time to farming.

There will not be any blockade brandy or any other kind, manufactured in the county this year on account of the failure of the fruit crop. Blockaders will have to make and sell corn juice if they expect to be the guest of Uncle Sam.

The loop at Chattahoochee Park was completed last Saturday afternoon and the electric cars "looped the loop" last Sunday, and will continue to do so hereafter. The underground at the park will be cut down at an early date, and before long walks will be laid out and graded. The dam on the Chattahoochee will hardly be completed before November.—News.

As usual one of the town pumps is out of fix again. One or the other is always out of repair. When children are not playing with them they are being used to supply water for stock, which keeps them in motion most all the time and out of fix. The pumps can't stand it. It takes too much to try to keep them up. The best and cheapest plan would be to use a couple of buckets and a chain instead of spending any more money on these pumps.

Sensational preachers should be put under bond and allowed to run at large only during good behavior. They are amenable to no laws of propriety or customs of polite society. They give wings to more mischief in a single minute than reputable clergymen are able to overcome in a twelve-month, and are not satisfied unless they are the centress of perpetual petty rages in the pulpit than it allows elsewhere; but to such an extent are sensational preachers abusing their privileges that the time is not far distant when common decency will revolt, and, men like Dr. Broughton will be subjected to proper restrictions in the interest of public safety, truthfully remarks the Albany Herald. The quickest way to get rid of sensational preachers is to remain away from the church when their day comes. Then they will be compelled to leave the pulpit and follow some other occupation besides what they call preaching, that will suit them much better.

Make it Short.

An exchange gives the following good advice: "Long visits, long exhortations, long essays and long prayers seldom profit those who have to do with them. Life is short. Time is short. Moments are precious. Learn to condense, abridge and intensify. We can endure many aches and ills that are soon over, while even pleasure grows insipid and pain intolerable if they are continued beyond the limits and convenience. Learn to be short. Crop off the branches, stick to the main side of your case. If you pray, ask for what you believe you will receive and get done with it; if you speak, tell your message and bid your peace; if you write, boil down two sentences into one.

Hand of Destiny.

"I had rather an odd experience in this state a few years ago," remarked a Tol-do man who was a guest at a Chicago hotel last week, says the Chicago Journal.

"I was driving across the country with a single horse when a bull broke out of a field and attacked and killed the horse. But for a tree being handy I might have shared the same fate. I had hired the rig of a liverman, and he demanded pay for the horse. Naturally enough I demanded an equal sum from the owner of the bull. He claimed that he had hired a neighbor to make the fences safe, and that the neighbor must be held. When it got along to the neighbor he scratched his head and said:

"I'm not to blame for it. If the bull hadn't had horns he couldn't have torn the fence down."

"There was a lawsuit in which the four of us were mixed up," continued the Buckeye, and I have always admired the erudition of the justice of the peace who tried the case and squelched it at that early stage.

"As for the killing of the horse," he said, "he might have been struck by lightning or met a circus elephant and fallen dead. That lets the hirer out. As for the owner of the bull, he didn't set him on, and that lets him out. As for the man who mended the fences, he did the best he could with the rails he had, and nobody can blame him. It's a case of Providence, with the horse coming along and the bull bursting the fence at the right minute, and costs will be divided among the four of you, and the bull's horns be saved off and a rig put in his nose."

Rejected.

"Gwendoline!" he implored, raising his voice in tremulous pleading. "Dearest love? I did not mean—I only meant—"

But she had arisen from the ottoman and stood before him, imperious, haughty, scintillating, with all the arrogant beauty of a proud belle of the upper West Side. Stretching herself to her fullest extent of four feet six, and casting a withering glance upon the trembling wight, she pointed to the door.

"Go, George W. Vandercott!" she cried. "Go, before I call the butler and have you removed by force. I have given to you, freely, a young girl's first love, a young girl's tender initial passion, a young girl's trust and confidence. Despite your wealth of billions I have consented to wear your name and sport your ermine, and would have adorned your palace in West End avenue as never palace was adorned before. But this ends it all. Never—oh! never—will Gwendoline McMut consent to wed a man who had presumed to ask her what may be—nay, is—her age!"—Harold Wilder, in New York Herald.

The freezing cure is going ahead in France. The well invented by M. Raoul Pictet is described as a four-lined steel cylinder about 5 feet deep. In this is placed the sufferer from lung, stomach or kidney disease, from five to fifteen minutes, and a liquefied of sulphurous and carbonic acids, at 110 degrees below zero, is circulated by special pumps between the double walls of the cylinder. By eight applications of this treatment, which gives no sensation of cold, M. Pictet claims to have cured his own dyspepsia of fifteen years' standing.—Exchange.

What to Teach the Boys.

A philosopher has said that true education of boys is to "teach them what they ought to know when they become men."

1. To be true and to be genuine. No education is worth anything that does not include this. A man had better not know how to read, and be true and genuine in action, rather than be learned in all sciences and in all languages, and be at the same time false in heart and counterfeit in life. Above all things, teach the boys that truth is more than riches, power or possessions.

2. To be pure in thought, language and life—pure in mind and body.

3. To be unselfish. To care for the feelings and comforts of others. To be generous, noble and manly. This will include a genuine reverence for the aged and for things sacred.

4. To be self-reliant and self-helpful, even from childhood. To be industrious always, and self-supporting at the earliest possible age. Teach them that all honest work is honorable; that an idle life of dependance on others is disgraceful.

When a boy has learned these things, when he has made these ideas part of him—however poor or however rich—he has learned the most important things he ought to know.

Dogs as Policemen.

During the Boer war one heard a good deal of dogs as scouts, but they have now actually been enrolled in Denmark and Belgium as part of the police force. They are mostly drawn from the collie breed, and it takes about four months to train them to their work. They can cleverly climb walls after a disappearing fugitive or catch him by the neck and hold him fast without hurting him till help arrives. These humble additions to the police force are not only used for tracking special criminals, but are on duty every night from 9 o'clock till 5 the next morning, accompanied by a policeman. In Belgium they are used in the prisons to prevent attempts at escape, and since this plan has been adopted there has not been a single prisoner willing to test the powers of these canine warders.—London Tatler.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE
Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 23, 1903.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.
Official Organ of both City and County.

Pope Leo died last Monday.
Mr. E. H. Langford of Hall county, was poisoned by buttermilk the other night.

We have been unable to learn who made up Booker Washington's bed during his recent visit to Atlanta.

The horses of New York are beginning to wear straw bonnets, provided with coarse netting for the ears.

In the senate the committee on education report against county school commissioners being elected by the people.

Last Thursday thirteen spoons wearing the picture of Christ and the twelve apostles were sold in London for $24,000.

Nine persons were killed by a tornado last Saturday at Streator, Ill., and the loss of property will aggregate two millions.

They must be about through with business in the senate, as Mr.
Park has introduced a bill for two-horse wagons not to have less than four inch tires, and one-horse nothing under three inches.

In Montana a negro carpenter has gone insane from reading reports of lynching of negroes, and rushed through Kalispel the other day shouting mob. Maybe he is guilty of some dark crime.

Real estate deals in Dawson county the past two weeks amounted to some ten or twelve thousand dollars. The largest transfer was made by Mr. Van Vleck to D.
M. McKee to the Palmetto place on the Etowah river, the price being $8,000.—Advertiser.

On Monday night in the west, grand chief P. M. Arthur, of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, dropped dead while speaking. He had just arisen to respond to a toast and repeated the words: "It may be my parting words to many of you," when he fell backward and expired in a few minutes.

A negro preacher in Gainesville discovered a typographical error in Green's almanac and says that the world will come to an end on Nov. 25. On that date a figure 1 was used in place of a 5, making it appear that the sun will set at 101, p. m., and many of the sisters and brothers believe it and are getting ready when the trumpet sounds. Now if some fellow in that locality will get him up an old bugle on that day and give it a few toots he could have a whole lot of fun.

Hurrah for Greater Vienna, Dooly county. The book or pamphlet has just reached our desk. It is about 10 x 12 inches and contains 76 pages. Gives a full description of Dooly county's industrially and commercially. In this pamphlet is found the pictures of all the business houses, residences, etc., of Vienna, besides those of prominent people, both men and women, and a full description of everything of any importance in that locality, giving the home seekers much knowledge of what is going on before he even sees the place or county.

The trial of Mrs. Onie Tanner, charged with poisoning her husband in Hall county, will be disposed of this week. The fact that something poisonous was found in the husband's stomach doesn't prove the guilt of the wife by any means, as we have learned of no chain of evidence that connected her with it whatever. The fact that the husband died from poison does not prove that the wife is guilty, because a gentleman of that county was poisoned by drinking buttermilk only a few days ago, and many other instances of like character that could be mentioned.

Mining Notes.

They are going down on the Turkey Hill and it gets richer.
The Briar Patch continues to show up well. Norrell panned out fifty pennyweights in a little creek in the slate the other day.
The finding of a three penny-weight nugget of gold by the young lad in Uncle Dick Wheelchel's yard last week proves that there is a very rich vein some where there on the property.

It was expected to begin the tubes and finish the Briar Patch canal right away when its managers were down but upon Judge Shope's return home he had to take his bed, causing a delay in the progress of the business.

The reservoir out at Cavender's Creek was completed this week and the tunnel is expected to be finished in a few days now, and everything will be ready for business and present a lively appearance in that camp in a short while.

Mr. Van Vleck, who is interested with Mr. Ashley in mica mining in this county, passed through Dahlonega last Monday on his way to Hightower district, for the purpose of opening up a mine on the Johnnie Gaddis property, and likely others, as they own and control other properties in that section.

The clean ups at the Ingersoll & Crismon dredge boat in the Chestatee river still continue satisfactory. At the last clean up many small nuggets were found amounting to seventeen and a half pennyweights. Many years ago at this point of the river it was worked by what was known then as a shovel boat, by men getting into the shallow places and throwing the gravel into a boat which would be carried to the banks and washed out, paying four or five dollars to the hand per day.

The taking out of samples of ores down at the Lockhart is completed, and a finer lot of ore, both in quantity and quality, was never found before in this county.
They cut across seven veins, all good, and in crossing one got out forty tons, giving some idea of the quantity. The sample ores from the Consolidated Co's mine before were sent for a test to Colorado. An effort is being made to get the gentleman, operating the smelter out there, to come and test it here this time. Then it can be told whether there is anything here that will do for flux except lime.

The Crown Mountain Co. held its meeting here last Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of which was to devise some means to complete the Gorge dam, so as to enable this mine to be run on full time. Resolutions were passed to this effect and the work on this important enterprise will quite likely be resumed in the course of a very short time.
The present power of the Crown Mountain plant since it has ceased raining, is growing weak again, and it looks like it will have to be closed down soon as all the machinery can't be run at the same time now.

Auraria Items.

Pleasant weather, good crops and nobody sick. What a blessing! Doesn't it seem that we ought to be satisfied? Yet if we could see ourselves as we really are, and possibly as others see us, we would exclaim with the prophet:
"The half has not been told."

Mr. H. M. Tower left for his home in New England last week.
He will possibly be gone till September. Mr. Tower gave our climate a good name for visitors.
The Bible Institute is reported to have been doing some beneficial work this week.
Rev. Mr. Gunn of Dahlonega had an appointment here Sunday and because his team failed to show up in time that morning he walked down here rather than disappoint anyone.
We had preaching at both churches last Sunday. Mr. White filled the Methodist pulpit and Mr. Gunn the Baptist.

Prof. Chas. P. Hiller.

This young gentleman has arrived in Dahlonega and will have charge of the Business Department of the N. G. A. College, and will also instruct in Modern Languages. He is a graduate of the Albany (N. Y.) Business College, and also a graduate of Cornell University. He takes the place of Prof. Ansted, who has removed to Toronto, Canada. We bespeak for Prof. Hiller a pleasant home in Dahlonega, as he has come to reside with us.

We had a light rain here Tuesday, the first for several days.

Mr. Ben Moore is now conductor on a Gainesville street car.

The Gainesville, Jefferson and Southern railroad has been ordered sold by Judge Kinsey.

Matthew McDonald has opened out a store in building next door above Dr. Stow's office.

Remember that you can find objections and most all other kind of blanks at the NUGGET office.

Three farmers were in from Grace, Ga., last Monday and all subscribed for the NUGGET.

Hon. Henry Turner of Brooks, is tendered the judgeship on the supreme bench made vacant by the death of Judge Lumpkin.

The miners and operators at Birmingham have agreed on an arbitration scheme and work is to be resumed at the mines.

At St. Louis one night last week a mob of negroes broke down the jail door whose desire it was to lynch one of their color for pretending to assault a negro woman, but he was hurried off and escaped.

BLACK- DRAUGHT STOCK and POULTRY MEDICINE

Stock and poultry have few troubles which are not bowel and liver irregularities. Black-draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is a bowel and liver remedy for stock. It puts the organs of digestion in a perfect condition.
Prominent American breeders and farmers keep their herds and flocks healthy by giving them an occasional dose of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their feed. Any stock raiser may buy a 25-cent half-pound air-tight can of this medicine from his dealer and keep his stock in vigorous health for weeks. Dealers generally keep Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine. If you do not not, send 25 cents for a sample can to the manufacturers, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

ROSELLE, Ga., Jan. 30, 1902.
Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is the best I ever tried. Our stock was looking bad when you sent me the medicine and now they are getting so fat. They are looking 20 percent better.

the legal hours of sale to the highest bidder for cash the following property to-5 years old. Said property levied on as the property of A. J. Taylor, so ad-

Jim Dumps was father of a lass Who, by her brightness, led her class.
The teacher asked Miss Dumps the question:
"How can you best assist digestion?"
"By eating 'Force.'" When told to him,
This story tickled "Sunny Jim."

"Force"
The Ready-to-Serve Cereal of good health.

Boy Big and Healthy.
"My little boy was very sick and would not take any nourishment. I got a package of 'Force' and fed him on it, and am pleased to say he is thriving. I will now put him beside any boy of his age, as he is big and healthy. All I fed him on is 'Force.'
"Mrs. A. LINDLEY KEENE."

We are glad to see that our friend and former citizen of Lumpkin county, Mr. J. R. Arrandale, now of Missouri, is interested in an enterprise that means many thousand of dollars to him. It is a new gas light invented by a St.
Louis gentleman, being a mixture of gasoline and air which produces revolutionary means of illuminating. A syndicate of New York, Chicago and St. Louis capitalists has just formed a $10,000,000 company. This lighting and heating system, has stood every test of efficiency, safety and economy by the number of plants installed throughout the country. This growing commercial proposition covers a field of operation as wide as the United States, Canada, Mexico, Great Britain, France and Belgium. The name of the new company is "The Federal Gas Company."

Local News.

Coul Strickland has returned to Swainsboro.

Dr. Stow, after a trip of several days down the country, returned last week.

E. H. Gibbins of White county, was bound over last Thursday by Com. Baker here charged with blockading.

We are glad to receive the news items from any section of the county, but some times they are crowded out and do not appear.

Judge Murray of Tennessee, who is liked by everybody here, arrived in the city last Friday, expecting to spend several days with us.

Last Thursday George Corn was bound over in a $250 bond by Squire W. J. Worley to keep the peace, as asked by Mr. Ashley who swore out the warrant.

After lingering for about three weeks the little two-year old girl of Mr. F. J. Williams of Two Run, died last Thursday afternoon. We deeply sympathize with the parents in the loss of their loved one.

Since Lincoln Wehant, the battlesman has wedded in this county, he has been seen wearing a coat. He promised before he married that he would cover his head with a hat, but so far has failed to carry out this obligation.

Last week a letter received from attorney W. D. Harris, who attended college at Dahlonega many years ago, states that Mr. J. B. Parks, died on July 1st very suddenly at Gretnbury, Hood county, Texas. This was Ben Parks who also went to college here in the seventies, residing then in Hall county.

Mr. Grif. Evans, who had his eye hurt recently while saving shingles in this county, went down to Atlanta last week in company with Dr. Wehant, to have it examined and the physicians told him that it was out. He goes again to day to let them see whether it is necessary to remove the ball to keep from injuring the other.

Although the Signal man didn't subscribe a cent towards the improvement of the cemetery, he suggested who and how to run it. This is very poor encouragement. The citizens very well know the sale of lots is not sufficient to keep up the cemetery, because the price is only $20 per lot and some years none are sold and no provisions are made for the cemetery.

According to announcement, A. Mr. Hucksback of High Shoals, Ga., appeared here last Thursday and stretched his tent for the purpose of giving a show, after exhibiting up at Mr. Frank Jones' store, a few miles out in the country. The outfit consisted of a tent about the size of a small wood house, a wagon and buggy, and a pair of poor old mules too lean for the buzzards, and a couple of performers who did the driving. After distributing a few complimentary tickets and ascertaining the amount of taxes for such a performance they pulled up stakes about the time for the balloon ascension and left out in the direction of Aoraria.

Some people may wonder why the board of education of this county has debarred the teachers of Union from teaching here unless they are examined and receive license in Lumpkin. It seems to be easier for applicants to pass in Union than in Lumpkin and for this reason many incompetent teachers are sent out. Some teachers from Union were employed in this county last year and their inability to teach caused confusion and such unsatisfactory results that several had to be dismissed and others employed. Others did well and are teaching in this county again. We understand that most of the board of Union county are aspirants for office which explains this unsatisfactory manner of turning out teachers in that county.

Prof. Gaillard has returned from Griffin.

Mr. Wm. Rice is confined to his bed this week.

Councilman Strickland has gone down to Gainesville.

Miss Carrie Harbison is visiting relatives in Gainesville this week.

By throwing at a barter sign Tuesday night, Marion Edmonson got into the lockup.

Young John Forest rocked Mrs. Adams house the other night and is now absent from Dahlonega.

Mr. C. C. Tate, after spending some months in Alabama, is up on a visit of a couple of weeks.

We are glad to learn that Mr. J. B. Witt, who has been very sick, is able to get up and go to the table now.

The valuation of Lumpkin county's property will fall short a few thousand dollars this year, says the tax receiver.

Mr. Guy Reese of Atlanta, who recently got slightly injured on the street car of that city, is up on a visit for a few days.

The farmers are about through with their crops now and will get a short rest. He who feels them all is entitled to some rest.

A fellow came into town with a large clock under his arm the other day which he had brought ten miles to have it repaired. He was not a subscriber to the Nugget and had not learned that the jeweler was off for a short while.

The tax receiver being unwilling to receive the Schly property at $1,000 valuation by the agent, Capt. J. W. Woodward, an arbitration was held with merchants H. D. Gurley and G. McGuire as arbitrators, who valued it at $3,000.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Prewitt of Silver City, Ga., were among the visitors here last Tuesday. Mr. Prewitt is that wife awake merchant who sold for ten per cent and had built up one of the largest mercantile concerns in upper Georgia.

To the regret of his many friends here, Mr. R. W. Walker left for Elijah yesterday, where he expects to locate for awhile. Mr. Walker has been living in and near Dahlonega for seven years and his friends in this section are numbered by the hundreds. We wish him success in any business he undertakes.

Capt. H. D. Ingersoll enjoyed his first mess of roasting ears here this season last Monday, being of the Golden Sued variety. The Captain stands in the lead, as we have heard of none so early elsewhere. Had it not been for the cold spring he would have had a mess in June. This was the third planting.

It may seem strange to some of you when we tell you that John Hester, who is perfectly blind, has gone over to Ducktown and secured a contract to cut wood. He can't cut a tree down but can do about as well as anyone when he gets the tree down. He generally has a partner to fell the timber. This shows what vim and energy can accomplish.

The representative of the Bell Telephone Co. wants the citizens of certain places on the proposed telephone line between Dahlonega and Dawsonville, to insure the company so much per month. This will not be done and we don't know whether the line will be built or not. Telephone lines are like railroads, they build up business and we don't blame the citizens for not doing this.

Capt. Isbell of North Carolina, has returned again, representing the United States Leather Co. This time he brought estimators who are now engaged in making estimates of the timber along Blue Ridge. What does it mean? A railroad, tanneries, acid factories and various other large enterprises that will spring up in Lumpkin county, giving employment to hundreds of hands, and bringing thousands of dollars into this section.

Mrs. Elizabeth Moss died last Monday near New Bridge, in this county, aged 83.

Mrs. Frank Weaver of Elmira, N. Y., is now on a visit here to her brother, Maj. Tillson.

Correspondents must send us their names, not for publication if they do not desire it, but for our protection.

Gen. Warner is fixing to move this week down to Mr. John Hulse's, seven miles this side of Gainesville.

Mr. H. D. Gurley, Jr., who has been located in Atlanta for some time, spent the most of this week with his parents in Dahlonega.

Both pastors of the Methodist and Baptist churches, after an absence from the city of some two or three weeks, returned last Saturday.

Mr. W. H. Courtney of White, was down this week, who reported the crops as growing finely and the Loud Mine turning out a large yield of gold as usual.

Our citizens are contributing very liberally towards the improvement of the cemetery at this place, and in a short while when all pay in, each name and amount will be given through the Nugget.

Mr. Isabell of North Carolina, who is interested in much of the timber lands that are being optioned in this county to the United States Leather Co., is busily engaged now in making maps of each district containing any of this timber.

Maj. Tillson means to put the boys through hereafter, either hot or cold, rain or snow, by using the boys old dormitory to drill in during rainy weather and the drill ground at other times. The ground is being graded and put in tip top shape now.

The furniture of the boys old dormitory has been removed this week to the Consolidated Hotel, recently leased from the company. It is one of the most convenient and best finished houses in Dahlonega, and if the boys are displeased at this place they can't be suited anywhere.

Henry Edmonson, who was poisoned on liquor a few days ago, made his appearance out first of the week enjoying his usual health except his left arm was paralyzed and a little out of repair. Some one said that he tried another kind of liquor the other day since he had been out. We suppose it was for a test to see whether he was poisoned with the other or not. Some times the quantity gives a good deal of trouble as well as the quality.

Last Monday Mr. John Moore purchased the town property of Messrs. Crane and Berry, known as the Ann Forster house, opposite the Clark house on West Main street. It was on the corner of Socc killed Campbell and was legally hanged in 1842. Judge Huff, our present ordinary, is one of the few here now who witnessed the hanging. In those days when a man committed murder he was soon tried and disposed of in short order.

At the request of Mr. W. E. Ricketts, who has been soliciting subscriptions for the improvement of the cemetery, a meeting of the citizens was called to convene in the court house last Friday night to appoint a committee, the duty of which is to see that the money subscribed is properly spent. The meeting was not as largely attended as it had been for the purpose of looking after the interest of some far off Chinaman or Japsanese, nevertheless enough citizens were present who felt an interest in this much needed improvement to transact the business of the evening. Rev. W. H. McAffee was elected chairman, W. B. Townsend, secretary and W. E. Ricketts, treasurer. Committee appointed: J. M. Brooksher, chairman, J. H. Moore, W. E. Ricketts, J. W. Boyd and J. V. Harris.

Gen. Hardin of Kentucky, who always has an interesting anecdote to tell his many friends here, came in last Friday.

Mr. W. D. Chamberlin of Dayton, O., in renewing his subscription last week said: "I depend upon your paper for mining news, keep me well posted."

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Kirby of Jacksonville, Ill., were among the visitors here last week. Mr. Kirby has an interest in the Crown Mountain Gold Mine.

The familiar face of Prof. J. S. Stewart was seen on our streets last Saturday after an absence of some two or three weeks, who came home to spend a day or so with his family.

Mr. Ike Reid was arrested last week on the charge of furnishing material to still by Marshal Grizzle, who made a temporary bond until yesterday and after an investigation was bound over.

A female mistook us for a preacher the other day as we were approaching her house and ran and hid. People who run from preachers and printers will never get to heaven without any change.

Mr. R. C. Wood left last Monday for Leroy, Kansas, to be gone for some two or three weeks. Mr. Wood has been engaged in putting up an up to date saw mill on his property near Cavender's Creek for some time.

A certain gentleman in speaking of the Nugget the other day, paid us a very high compliment but he is too stingy to take one of his own and depends upon borrowing. Compliments alone are not worth a cent to a newspaper.

Mr. Robt. Payne, who recently went down near Marietta to work on the railroad, has returned after selling out his team. Bob says the sun travels a heap faster up here than it did down there where he was at work.

A gentleman was telling as the other day about seeing a preacher sitting in the door, out in the country, playing the fiddle on Sunday. Maybe he was just practicing to see if he could be more successful in fiddling than preaching.

We understand that one of the pastors of the churches here remarked that he didn't see why they wanted to build a railroad to this place. We are not at all surprised to hear of such language when it comes from one who has not enough influence in his business to cause the conversion of a single person in six months, if not longer, and if we were in his place we would throw up the sponge and follow some other occupation, and not be guilty of receiving a salary for services not rendered. The absence of such sore-heads would be much more preferable. For when a preacher has no more interest in the town where he is located than just to receive his salary his absence wouldn't be missed.

The pavilion in the drill field of the college ground has been torn away and if anyone desires to witness the military exercises hereafter they must be content with a position in the open air, with no protection from the sun. This pavilion was first built by the citizens of Dahlonega and located at the Besser mineral springs a number of years ago by subscription. Soon after its construction an incident occurred which we will long remember. Rev. Goodman Hughes, a Methodist preacher who has long since passed away and received his reward, contributed largely towards its construction. The day it was completed Uncle Goodman and Aunt Emily went over to visit the place and when they got there dancing was going on with music furnished by colored musicians. At that time it was not believed that church members who danced could reach heaven, and the two good old people, with disgust, turned their vehicle around and never saw the place any more.

Rev. J. M. Gurley, after a few days visit to his friends and relatives here and in Union county, returned to his home in Missouri last Monday.

You who wish to attend the N. G. A. College should not forget that the time of opening has been changed to the 2nd day of September instead of the 9th.

The appraisers last Thursday valued the household effects of Mrs. Hutchins, deceased, at $241.05. Mr. B. F. Anderson, the county administrator, will dispose of the things next Monday.

To show our readers how well Mr. D. P. Hyden of Atlanta, appreciates the Nugget, we quote what he says as follows: "We cannot do without the Nugget. It is like the negro said about the potatoes, it is bread and meat both."

The companies preparing to purchase timber lands in this county are bound to have a railroad to transport their lumber, stumps and tan bark or liquid, which will be quite an item to the railroad, saying nothing of the mica and many other new industries that will spring up hereafter.

In Oklahoma the wind blows so hard that bees can't live in that country and honey is 20 cents a pound. Last week when Mrs. Gaddis left here for her home out there she made arrangements to have about two hundred pounds of honey shipped to her. This and many other reasons is why we prefer the old red hills of Georgia for a home.

Last Thursday morning while Miss Susie Riley was sweeping the yard at Mr. F. M. Wheelchels, where she boards at this place, she found a beautiful nugget of gold in the shape of half of a leaf, weighing three pennyweights. This is the good luck of a young lady who has come to Dahlonega to spend the summer. Let others come. There is no telling what they will find in our beautiful mountain city.

The name of Wm. Dotson of this county, has been placed on the government pension list again. Last Thursday he secured a voucher for the sum of $648 for back pay and will hereafter receive $8 per month. Bill has been working in the gold mines here a long time. He is growing old and feeble now and this money will be a great help to him, and from now on he will be called Mr. Dotson, like the rest of the people having plenty of money.

The largest rattlesnake we have heard of in this section was killed recently on the mountain by Mr. J. C. Self. It was five feet long, with sixteen rattles and a button and would have filled a half bushel measure. Mr. Self and his little boy were out squirrel hunting and the son discovered the snake, and would have stepped on it the next time while it was in its coil. There the little fellow stood within reach of it should it strike, and the father with a rifle, expecting it to do so every instant. So as quick as he could raise his gun he aimed at the monster's head, knowing if he didn't kill it instantly that it would bite his boy. At the crack of the gun the ball hit its aim, certainly giving the marksman much relief.

Last week when sheriff Davis and Constable Walker went out to arrest Geo. Corn on a peace warrant, they were confronted by his wife with a loaded pistol. The officers took possession of the weapon together with a gun. About that time Rev. Mat Grizzle and Willis Wehant appeared and the lady secured another pistol and desirous of "cleaning up the patch," commenced snapping at the newcomers. To say that they run doesn't express it, although the divine had often been heard in the pulpit to invite his hearers to come and go with him to that city on high where honey and wine is free to all, and its streets paved with gold, but both of them decided to use the paths of Nimblewill district a while longer and eat green beans and drink buttermilk.

See notice of lost notes elsewhere.

Any one wanting Masons fruit jars call at Andersons & Jones.

Miss Ramsour of Atlanta, a daughter of Mr. Luther Ramsour, is here as the guest of Prof. and Mrs. B. P. Gaillard.

Some of you may think that the Nugget is most too personal but it is the only way to give the news of the town and county. This is why it prospers.

One night last week one of Mr. W. B. Woodward's children arose in his sleep and walked out on the porch and thinking he was at the creek, made a dive off of the porch and was pretty badly hurt for awhile.

A subscriber writes us that she has not received a copy of the Nugget in more than a month, although the subscriber has been going from place to place. Persons must remember that neither the mails nor editor is to blame for them not receiving the paper regularly when they are traveling from town to town. We can't keep up with them and Uncle Sam doesn't try to.

It is claimed by the preachers that all is peace and happiness in heaven, but what is going to be the result of some of those naughty people should they succeed in reaching that beautiful land and are given a pair of wings and a harp no better than a poor persons, who while here on earth won't even sit on the church bench with one, and if one not dressed up to date passes by will turn their nose to one side like the hinge of a gate? Can such people as this enjoy themselves in heaven when they are placed on the same footing with other people? No.

One day last week Avo Dotson, the nineteen or twenty-year old son of Wm. Dotson of this county, outraged the little girl of Mr. Floyd Brooksher aged about nine or ten years. I've does not stay at home but for a long time has been living alone in a little house on the Ivey property not far from town, doing his own cooking. But that house is vacant now. He is gone. This little girl and a much younger brother were sent to this lad's place of abode for something, when he took advantage of the opportunity, gave the little boy something to play with at the house and coaxed his sister off into the woods, pretending to hunt a hens nest and in this way succeeded in accomplishing his hellish desire, telling the child so she says, if she ever told it he would kill her.

Last Sunday we went out to the Baptist church to hear Rev. J. M. Gurley, a resident of the west, preach. He is highly educated, has a good delivery, a splendid voice and preaches well, interesting everyone present. Before beginning his sermon Mr. Gurley told of the many changes that had taken place here, and where he lived since he had gone away when quite a youth. The ground where his father once farmed is now grown up in large trees and he wouldn't have known the place had it not been for the distance. This caused us to get to studying and notice many changes that had taken place, even in the church, since we used to attend when a boy. Out of a large congregation we saw but two faces, Capt. W. J. Worley and Col. W. B. Price, who were there thirty-five and forty years ago. The amen benches, which were occupied by old people and furnished good old time vocal music, were almost vacant. The music is ground out now by an organ, not often used or enjoyed by aged people. We saw just two of our old school mates. They too have changed and the course of long years are telling on them rapidly. Nothing looked familiar except the contribution basket. It was brought around as usual. Not by the same persons who carried it years ago, but by new hands. The others have long since passed away and gone to reap their reward.

A Soft Answer.

Many a man has been helped out of a difficulty by his wife's tact and ready wit, says the Philadelphia Ledger. A popular Philadelphia clergyman tells the following on himself: One day he saw coming up the steps a woman whom he was not particularly anxious to meet. So he said to his wife: "Now, my dear, I'll run upstairs and escape until she goes."

After about an hour he guiltily tiptoed to the landing and listened. Reassured, he started to go down stairs, and, while doing so called out over the banister: "Well, my dear, has that old bore gone at last?"

The next instant a voice from below caused a cold perspiration to bedew his ministerial brow and rooted him to the spot.

Then came a response that sounded inexpressible sweet to him. It was the voice of his wife, who replied: "Yes, doctor, she went away over an hour ago, but here is our old friend, Mrs. Jenkins, whom I am sure you want to meet."

Most girls close their eyes when they are kissed; do you blame them?

The poor ye have always with you—often so close that they touch you.

Politeness is the salt of life; you hate to have it rubbed into you when you are cut up.

A lot of people who should be spending good time getting good money spend good money getting a good time.

It does not make it right to do what you ought not to do when you don't do what you ought to do.

It is all well to get a good start, but the start you get when some fool puts his cold hands down your neck may be too good. —Princeton Tiger.

The following articles were taken from the stomach of a man who recently died in the Michigan State Asylum in Kalamazoo: One twenty-penny spike, four inches long; thirty-two ten-penny nails; seventy-nine eight-penny nails; twenty-three single nails; 180 bent nails of various assorted sizes; twenty-nine pieces of wire, different sizes, one iron washer, 1 1/4 inches in diameter; four suspender clasps, seventeen buttons assorted; 120 small stones, twelve pieces of tin, various sizes; three serows; upper halves of three twenty-penny spikes, three 32 calibre cartridge shells, twenty-eight pins. Many of the largest nails were partially eaten up by the acids of the stomach. One four-inch nail, which pierced the stomach is believed to have caused the abscess which resulted in death. The patient was fifty years of age, and had been at the asylum almost continuously since 1870.

There is no wealth but life, including all its powers of love, of joy and admiration. That country is the richest which nourishes the greatest number of noble and happy human beings; that man is richest who having perfected the functions of his own life to the utmost, has also the widest helpful influence, both personal and by means of his possessions, over the lives of others.

What a True Woman Is.

A true woman will not believe unkind things about her dearest friend.

A true woman will go to a friend and tell her her failings and mistakes in a spirit of love, rather than talk about them and find fault behind her back.

A true woman will always look for the good points in a person's character and will dilate on these, if she has anything to say about her. There are always enough women to pick flaws even in saintly characters.

A true woman is entirely unselfish. She rejoices with others in their joys and weeps with them in their sorrows. She does not envy those more fortunate than herself, and is the first to offer congratulations on good fortune.

A true woman is broad minded and tolerant. She listens patiently to the arguments of others, and seeks to find the good in what they propose.

A true woman is gracious to everyone. The shabby clad and those low in social scale receive as much attention from her as their more fortunate sisters.

Delays are Dangerous.

"Ah, Gracie, dear," she said to the duke, "why don't you go to papa today? Delays are dangerous, you know."

"Yes, I realized that, but I've only known you three days, and these get-rich quick schemes always seem to be so risky." —Chicago Record Herald.

In Norway drunkenness is punished by imprisonment. As soon as a man is incarcerated the delinquent has a loaf and wine, morning and evening. The bread is served in a wooden bowl, full of wine in which it is soaked for an hour. The first day the drunkard swallows his allowance willingly enough; the second day it seems less pleasing. At the end of eight days prisoners have been known to abstain altogether from the food thus pitilessly presented. This course of treatment finished, the drunkard, except in rare cases, is radically cured.

That the rural neighborhood telephone may be made to afford keen pleasure was shown in Atchison county, Missouri, recently. A line man on a tour of inspection visited one of the farm houses on the line, a house from which very few messages had ever been sent. The woman of the house was found sitting in a rocking chair knitting, with the receiver tied to her ear, and enjoying all of the conversation that was going over the line.

"Have you ever been married?" asked the magistrate. "No," replied the prisoner at the bar of justice; but I've been blown up by dynamite."

The Point of View.

A gentleman went to a dentist and asked him to "take a look at his teeth."

The dentist did so and seemed full of admiration.

"What do you think of them?" asked the patient.

"Magnificent, magnificent!" was all the dentist could say.

"Then you don't find anything to do to them?"

"To do to them? Why, there are four to be pulled, six to be filled and three to be crowned!" said the dentist.

One of our correspondents says: "Isn't it strange that a preacher will declare that the world is coming to an end, and the sun go down about 12 o'clock Nov. 25th, 1908, and perform manual labor to the amount of two dollars on Sunday morning, and then fill the pulpit the same Sunday?"

The liquor tax of Brooks county has been fixed at $12,000.

Deadly

Grasp of Grip Prostrated Me.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Built Up My

Shattered Nerves and Gave Me an Appetite.

Of the millions of people, who today suffer from nervous or heart weakness, a large percentage trace the cause directly to deadly LaGrippe. It is a germ disease, and makes a direct attack upon the nerves, putting an extra strain upon them at the time their vitality is at the lowest ebb. If LaGrippe has left you with a shattered nervous system, with loss of appetite, lack of energy, insomnia, frequent headaches and morbid tendencies, you should strengthen the weakened nerves with Dr. Miles' Nervine. It will undo all that grip has done, bring back appetite, rest and restore the nerves to their normal activity. "I want to write this testimonial for the benefit of those who have suffered from that dreaded disease—LaGrippe. I suffered several weeks with it, and nothing I tried seemed to benefit me in any way, shape or form (I suffered almost death) and finally my daughter recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine to me and I can truthfully say from the first day I felt better than in weeks. It gave me relief, built up my shattered nerves and gave me a splendid appetite. I cannot speak too highly of it and want to say, each and every one who has suffered from LaGrippe will find instant relief by getting a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine. Insist on having it and take to effect. It is simply splendid. Hoping this will benefit some poor sufferer I remain," —Mrs. George B. Hall, Jackson, Tenn.

Beautiful Canada — Union County.

Canada is a district in Union county, Ga. It is the most elevated section in the state, being on top of the Blue Ridge. Its name was given by the first settlers. It being so cold they called it Canada. Our post office is called Quebec. It was also named after the cold region. Twenty years ago corn would not mature in this section—could only raise Irish potatoes and vegetables. The people had to get their bread from Dahlonega and the section of Lumpkin county. Corn doesn't do well here at this time but we have the finest section for vegetables of any in the state, and if the railroad reaches Dahlonega we will have the garden spot of Georgia. We have the purest air, purest air and the coldest water in the state. Also have a nice hotel for pleasure seekers and fishermen. Anyone visiting this section now will certainly want to return. Col. Parrow's grandson, in company with others, was over on a visit recently, on a fishing tour. The boys were good after trout and caught a nice string of the speckled fish and returned to Porter Springs to show their grandpa what fine luck they had. They say they are sure to come again.

The most of the people of this section are buying their corn in Chestatee and going to Gainesville by the way of Chestatee, as there hasn't been any work done on the Grassy Gap road for the last year. We hope the good people of Yahoola and Dahlonega, having corn to sell, that want cabbage and Irish potatoes and many other things, will hear our cry and have the rocks thrown in the holes and the road worked out so we can pass that way.

CANADA.

Where Our Stock Goes.

A table has been prepared, showing the origin of live stock shipments to the Northern markets. From it we gather that Texas shipped last year to St. Louis 389,414 cattle, 8,805 hogs, and 58,944 sheep. To Kansas City, 343,729 cattle, 5,725 hogs, and 106,054 sheep. To Chicago, 73,794 cattle, 300 hogs, and 4,128 sheep. A few were sent to other markets, making a total of 861,200 cattle, 17,095 hogs, and 191,051 sheep sent out of the state.

The Indian Territory sent to St. Louis 270,025 cattle, to Kansas City, 203,421, and to St. Joseph, 42,416. Of hogs, she sent 69,240 to Kansas City and 18,777 to St. Louis. Oklahoma sent 182,441 cattle to Kansas City, 13,987 to St. Joseph and 14,778 to St. Louis. She sent 15,882 sheep to Kansas City, and a few to other points. The total number from Texas, Indian Territory and Oklahoma that went to swell the receipts of the Northern markets was 1,412,473 cattle, 159,400 hogs, and 219,022 sheep.—Fort Worth Live Stock Reporter.

Here is what the Atlanta Constitution thinks of the local paper and the duty of the local people to the local paper: "Every community owes the prime duty of support to its local press. If a man can afford to take only one paper he should take his home paper. The old Greek adage 'know thyself,' should be expounded into 'know thy neighbors,' and the way to do that is to support your home paper. There is no better or helpful asset to any county than a good newspaper, filled with neighborhood news, and dealings with all issues of common interest as the weekly press usually does—fairly and honestly."

To Protect Southern Women.

The country road is not safe to women in many parts of the country. It is true in many counties in this state, noticeably along our great railroad lines, though not through their fault.

The human wolf is always aboard. Sometimes he is a negro and sometimes a white man. In either case our states make no provision to defend the highway against him. Offenses like that for which this man was lynched are rare on the sequestered un-built roads every city has, because its highways are patrolled by police.

Women in the countryside and on the country highway have a right to the same protection as their sisters in the city. A mounted police should network rural highways. It should be paid by the state, through a tax on property, most of which the cities would pay. If Delaware had taxed its corporations and its city property, with a fair relative tax on farms, to provide a rural police and keep the roads safe, this crime would never have been committed. It is because the state leaves its rural highways lawless and undefended against the human wolf that lawless mobs take the law into their own hands. Make the roads safe to women by a state rural police which relieves the countryside of the hideous horror which now overshadows it for all lonely women, and lynching would disappear.

Our states neglect this duty. They neglect another. This particular human wolf had served a term for this offense. No man ought to leave a state prison after a conviction for this offense or its attempt until the prison surgeon had made it impossible to repeat offense or attempt. The way to prevent lawlessness in the mob is to prevent lawlessness in the criminal. Begin there and the mob will never be heard from.

Our laws instead let these things drift. The roads are not safe for lack of a rural police. A human wolf like this man, twice convicted for lawless violence and once for a similar crime, was turned loose, unmarked and uncorrected, to return to his crime. Peril to its women no community will long endure without outbreak; but the remedy for this lawless peril is not more lawlessness but more law.

Our states, most of all states like Delaware and Pennsylvania, across which the imbruted of both colors wander as tramps, vagrants and semi-criminals, need a rural mounted police patrolling the country highway. If the states keep the peace the mob will, too. The states need also a sharper edge and a heavier hand for the tramp and vagrant. A man of this class and habit, convicted of violent crime should be kept under watch all his life. If his crime be of this character, or even if it be attempted, he should never be left able to repeat it.

This policy, persisted in, would end lynching by removing its cause. Nothing else will. A rural police which rounded up tramps and vagrants at sight would soon rid our country roads and lanes of the terror and horror that now broods over them for women, and out of this terror and horror, when crimes come, mobs grow.—Philadelphia Press.

The new steel bridge to be built over East river at New York will cost no less than fifteen million dollars, it is estimated.

Two Damsels.

Mr. G. F. Abbott who made a journey into Macedonia, writes on idyl with a moral in relating his experience in getting a drink of water, says the Youth's Companion. He reined in beside a wayside fountain at which a young girl was filling her pitcher.

The damsel was very fair to look upon, says Mr. Abbott, and I was very thirsty. So I said: "Give me, I pray thee, a little water of thy pitcher to drink."

And she replied: "Drink thou, and I will also withdraw my pitcher, that my male may drink likewise."

And I, carried away by the charm of the scene, asked, not for information, but for the sake of hearing the music of her voice: "Whose daughter art thou?"

And I went away crestfallen, pondering over the difference between Mesopotamia in the days of Abraham and Macedonia in my own.

As I entered the village of Provisto a second damsel came forth with her pitcher on her shoulder. She was not fair to look upon. I made bold to ask to direct me to the house of a man to whom I was recommended. And she made haste and let down her pitcher from her shoulder, and showed me the way. And I bowed my head and offered her a silver coin, which she declined. Thereupon I offered her a water lily from my belt, which she accepted with a modest blush; and forthwith she ceased to look plain.

Verily, it is not always the fairest vessel that contains the sweetest wine.

A Milk Epidemic.

Of the typhoid epidemics traced to milk one of the most typical was that at Springfield, Mass., where in July and August of 1892 150 cases occurred concentrated in one of the most beautiful suburban districts of that city. The investigation by Professor W. T. Sedgwick showed that the pestilence was coincident with the route of a certain milkman. It was next found that a portion of his product came from a farm where several cases of typhoid fever had occurred during the preceding summer. Shortly before the outbreak of the epidemic the discharges from the patients were spread upon a tobacco field. Manure from this field carried on the boots of the farmhands was obvious about and in a well near by. On the bottom of this well and submerged in leaky cans stood the milk to be cooled before it was sent to Springfield. The chain of evidence was thus complete. —C. E. A. Winslow in Atlantic.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 30, 1903.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.
Official Organ of both City and County.

Pope Leo's will was read last week and all his property goes to the church except a few presents.

Some of the blockaders are now running their still by the "heater process," which makes no smoke.

Some of Uncle Sam's guns are being supplied with shells having torpedoes attached which illuminate and then strike.

Hereafter insane convicts will be cared for by the state at the penitentiary farm instead of the asylum at Milledgeville.

A rocking chair has been invented which fans its occupant, that will cause much more idle time being wasted among lazy folks.

The $70,000 borrowed to run the present legislature had just as well been thrown into the fire for the good it has accomplished.

One day last week near Carrollton, Robert Smith shot and killed his young wife, whom he had whipped a day or two before.

The Atlanta News says the Associated Press is suppressing many stories of lynchings in the north. Let us have the news as it occurs, either north or south.

Mr. Rainey of Terrell county, wants an appropriation of $5,000 to complete the necessary repairs on the capitol. How much more will it need.

The Acworth Post believes the senate killed an important measure when it voted down the measure to elect county school commissioners by the people. If it's editor lived in some of the counties controlled by negroes he would change his notion.

The bible school for negro ministers at the African church at Columbus last week proved a failure, says the Atlanta Constitution. The colored teacher had a suspicion that the white teachers were "inspectors" and refused to have anything to do with them.

Last week a gathering of negroes at Madison, adopted resolutions declaring the south the best place for the negroes. The recent lynchings of some of their color in the north have caused them to like the south best yet they are not safe anywhere when guilty of dark crimes.

Smith, the 19-year-old wife murderer, who killed his wife recently near Carrollton, now in Fulton county jail, says he did it because she would not live with him and has no regrets whatever. The next thing you hear of him he will be in the lunatic asylum, instead of going on the gallows. His crime is such as to cause him to have an easy time.

A correspondent of the Union County Herald of last week reports Wink Gardner, who claims to be a preacher, as stating at Mt. Pleasant the second Sunday as follows: "That whenever the gospel shall have been preached to all nations then the world shall come to an end. It has been preached to all nations and the end is here." Such a prediction as this by men who are supposed to be leaders is one cause of so many people having no confidence in their doctrine. Please give us a rest.

A half-grown white girl, a berry patch, a passing negro—the reader knows the rest. Only this time—the place being East Whitehall, Vermont, the lynchings were persuaded to give up and go home before they had succeeded in breaking open the jail. When they hear some months hence that the negro has been sentenced to two years, or acquitted through a technicality, no doubt the disappointed lynch mob will accept the inevitable philosophically. There is perhaps something in climate after all.—Macon Telegraph.

Auraria Items.

Bring out the old month,
Sing in the new,
Bring along your watermelons
And we'll sing too.

With plenty of beans, tomatoes, potatoes, pies, and a large roasting ear patch, we can take off our hat and exclaim to the world: "Prosperity!"

Rev. Dave Burt of Dawsonville, here a few days last week.

The latest scientific discovery has been made by one of the old sages of "Nucklesville," who has recently handed down the glorious conclusion that Auraria is in the center of the world since if you were to pass a pole through the center of the earth from here it would come out exactly on the opposite side.

We marvel when we stop long enough to think of the rapid strides our town has been making recently. A Bible Institute every day, preaching every night, interspersed with lectures, not to mention other things.

The literary school is still gaining ground with increased strength and energy. The average attendance has now risen to about forty and the work we are doing is by no means valueless. We would like to hear from some of our neighbors. We claim the prize, at least in numbers, if nothing else. If anybody can beat us let them show their colors.

Mr. Rosser, who is a visitor here from Atlanta, was interested enough to visit our school last Friday, not for a show, but to see what we were actually doing. As a patron, she has learned by experience with the advanced schools of Atlanta that the patrons must keep in touch with the teacher if they would have the best results. Patrons should be interested enough in their children to see that they come every day. If they don't they fail to keep up with their class and hence, had better stay at home.

With preachers from Cornelia, Dawsonville, Hedwig, Dahlonega and Gainesville, and teachers from Chamble and Monroe, and mercantile men from Atlanta, and miners from the north and west, must we get up on a stump and cry out to the world: "Stand still?" No!

Out of forty-four pupils only one has willfully disobeyed the rules of the school. We withhold the name now but should it be repeated we will give name and also the punishment inflicted.

We would be glad to know if all the schools in this section of the county will not join us and have a general picnic on the third Saturday in August. If so the picnic will be at Castleberry bridge, on the Etowah, one mile west of Auraria. If there is anyone who will join us, please let us know at once. It is quite likely that the Plainview and Betz schools will be with us.

A dispatch from Macon to the Atlanta Journal says: A negro woman created a sensation on Pine street a few days ago by appearing in three different outlays of fine silk dresses in the same day. She paraded with all the vanity of a peacock, and as for once in her life proud that she was a "nigger." The police suspected that she was too much on easy street, and they spotted her. A thousand dollars' worth of stolen silks and fine clothing were found in her house, and this led to the wholesale arrest of carbreakers, and the gang of negro thieves who have been struggling toward "social equality" in this section. The officers think they will send about ten "swells" to the penitentiary as a result of the detective.

The Augusta Herald wants to know two things. One of them is "How long will it be before men may wear stylish clothes again without looking slouchy?" and the other is, "How long before girls may wear stylish figures without looking as crooked as a dog's hind legs?" When their parents get too poor to buy the rigging,

A Belated Matter.

Col. Sidney Herbert of Mauleland, Florida, has for more than twenty-five years, had a great friendship for our townsman, Col. W. P. Price, Sr. It was the fortune of these gentlemen to be on opposite sides in the Civil war, and their regiments were closely engaged in the battle of Bull Run, July 18, and the battle of Manassas, July 21, 1861. Col. Herbert has for many years been the regular correspondent of the Savannah Morning News.

We publish the following paragraph from one of his recent letters to the News:

"My esteemed friend and former old Bull Run comrade, Col. W. P. Price of Dahlonega, Ga., contributed a very interesting article to the Sunny South of Feb. 22, on the militia generals and their soldiers of antebellum days up in the mountains, among the gold mines. The article was full of historic interest, as Gen. Winfield Scott, U. S. A., was at one time stationed there, and Col. Thomas J. Rusk went from Lumpkin county to Texas, where he became Secretary of War and United States senator of the young republic. In contrast to the old militia, with their quaint uniforms, Col. Price prints a fine photo-engraving of the cadet Battalion of the North Georgia Military and Agricultural College, a military organization, creditable to any similar college in the United States. Col. Price is the worthy and patriotic son of a noble sire—whose name he bears—who was a brave officer in the Florida Indian wars, and also commanded a company under Gen. Scott during the removal of the Georgia Cherokee Indians. This is a belated item, but one full of historic interest."

Rev. T. Bright, who allowed himself tangled up in the Amos Owen Cherry Tree Co. fraud has withdrawn from the ministry, he says, solely to protect the cause, until a time when the brethren shall decide for him to return to the work.—Blue Ridge World.

The case of Miss Onie Tanner, charged with poisoning her husband in Hall county some time ago, was continued till the next term of the Superior Court of that county and the defendant allowed to give a five thousand dollar bond on account of being ill with fever.

The young man who threw a rock into the car at Gainesville and bit a lady got five years for it, which should be a warning to all those having a disposition to do such a thing.

The pleasures of the legislators will soon come to a close.

Dragging Pains

2829 Keeley St.,
CHATTANOOGA, TENN., Oct. 5, 1902.
I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins, and suffering terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui for blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Maudie Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

A curious story has come to light at Quitman in connection with the freakish weather which has prevailed in that, as well as other sections of the country, this summer. A farmer near Morven had gotten his crops thoroughly clean and his farm in good condition in the spring and had paid off his hands on a Saturday. The next day a terrific wind and hailstorm completely destroyed his young crops. He replanted, and a few weeks ago his crops were again in a fine condition. Again on Saturday night he paid off his hands and this time remarked: "Well, I'm ready for another d—n hail storm now." And sure enough a hail storm came and utterly ruined the fields again.—Ex.

Local News.

Dog days have set in.

Robert Davis, a son of Sheriff Davis, is sick with fever.

Col. Sharp of Atlanta, who has mining interests in this county, is in Dahlonega.

Mr. J. H. McKee, one of Dawson county's cleverest citizens, was in Dahlonega first of the week.

Merchants M. J. Williams and T. S. Littlefield left last Sunday on a little pleasure trip to Atlanta and the coast.

Mr. J. E. Meaders of Swainsboro, is up for the purpose of spending a few weeks in Dahlonega, in company with his family.

Constable Walker and several others left last Sunday for Ducktown for the purpose of working awhile in the smoky regions of Tennessee.

Mr. Frank Griffin, the electrician, was required to pay a fine of one and one cent last Monday for letting his temper get up to fighting speed.

Messrs. Smith Bro. are receiving their fall clothing, and if you want to secure a nice suit for the cool season now is the time before the stock is picked over.

On last Saturday morning while before day a six room dwelling on the pyrites mine was destroyed, together with all of its contents, caused by a defective stove flue. The structure was used as a boarding house for the employees.

Rev. Mr. Mark has been ordered off to Monroe and other places by the presiding elder to assist in carrying on revivals and camp meetings for a couple of weeks or more, yet his church will be expected to pay his salary whether its members get any preaching or not.

We noticed four old soldiers sitting in front of the court house the other day, three of whom draw pensions. Two for deserting their country and going over to the enemy, and one for remaining to his post and being wounded. The two turning their backs to their homes and friends receive a good deal more than the other who stood the storm. This is law but it is not justice.

At a late hour Saturday afternoon a strange woman passed up the Cooper Gap road trying to get a place to stay all night. She said she had walked all the way from New Holland, near Gainesville that day. At one place she went by the name of Mary Fields, at another Wilbanks. She carried with her the photograph of a well looking young man. Maybe this young man had been her ruin and caused the poor girl to be going from place to place. Who knows?

The revenue officials have been disturbing the blockaders down in Dawson county for the last few days considerably. They came from Jasper, and found Vance Thurmon and Henry Cain last Thursday with one hundred gallons of liquor in a wagon. The men, liquor, and mules were taken charge of by officer Spence, and will be sold except, the men and the proceeds placed in Uncle Sam's treasury, and the men will be admitted to his free lunch counter for several months.

Tax receiver Heslin has completed his digest and delivered them to the ordinary and Comptroller general this week, which shows a decrease in the valuation of property to the amount of $10,932 since last year, caused by the selling out of the Union Store and 1370 acres less land being returned this year than last. There has been no changes in the county lines and most certainly some one is to blame for this falling off. The number of acres returned for 1902 was 208,987 and for 1903, 205,908. If defaulters were double taxed and not relieved for awhile such negligence as this would soon cease.

Don't fret about a railroad to Dahlonega. It takes time. She is bound to come.

Miss Nellie Carroll, after several weeks visit in White county, returned last Sunday.

Next week court convenes at Dawsonville and several of our attorneys expect to attend.

It is strange that some married women will fall in love with boys. Yet no more strange than true.

An old garter snake was killed on Crane's Hill the other day together with about 40 young ones.

Rev. Mr. Gunn preached out at Oak Grove last Sunday. His sermon was not of a sensational nature and therefore was listened to with much interest by a crowded house.

Jack Townsend, who recently returned from Alabama, has been confined to his bed for several days. This is the wrong season of the year for people of the mountains to go to Alabama.

It is very important that you renew your subscription to the NUGGET when it expires if you wish to continue reading it, otherwise we might forget to send it to you. We are very forgetful on such occasions as this.

We have been extended an invitation, from Mr. Grant Woody of Quebec, to come over to his new hotel on the Blue Ridge mountains and enjoy his hospitality, which we hope to be able to do at an early day.

A contractor from near Dallas, Ga., has been up here this week trying to hire hands and teams to go down and work on the railroad. He said that he could use one hundred teams at $3.00 per day for twelve months or more and many hands at good wages.

Attorneys Huff and Bryson went over to Shoal Creek law ground last Saturday to look after their client's interest. Squire Scott Stringer presided and the two lawyers voices echoed and re-echoed in the hills and valleys of that district for an hour or so, resembling Superior court business.

Where we elob the NUGGET with another paper don't expect us to take beeswax and feathers for the NUGGET and the money for the other paper. If you do you are not the one we are looking for. The NUGGET is the paper we are looking after and when we can't make it worth a dollar a year we will quit the business and go to fiddling for a living.

A solicitation for contributions have been sent off to parties having relatives buried in the Dahlonega cemetery by the committee so as to enable it to improve the ground. Some have responded. Others haven't. Those contributing nothing might feel a little embarrassed should they meet their departed relatives in another world after neglecting, or refusing to do something in their memory, after they have passed away.

We were present in the ordinary's office the other day when an old soldier was making out a claim for a pension under the indigent act although upon examination of the tax digest it was found that he returned over $8000 worth of property. He says now that it doesn't belong to him. Yet, for some time, he borrowed money on the strength of it at the bank until they closed down on him. Now he wants to get some from the state.

One day last week while Roy, J. B. Brown and wife were eating dinner a dirt dauber in passing over the table dropped a spider in the plate of beans. Mrs. Brown happened to discover it in time to save anyone from being poisoned. Many times people are poisoned in this way and some innocent person has to suffer, showing that jurors should be very careful in returning verdicts where there is nothing but circumstantial evidence.

You will find Dahlonega a delightful place to spend August.

Mr. Tom Cantrell of White, is in Dahlonega.

Fruit jars at John H. Moore's, both quart and half gallon.

Cabbage couldn't be sold here last week for awhile at half cent a pound.

It is a hard matter for either daily mail to make schedule time these days, especially by the upper route.

County Surveyor Hix and his wife passed through Dahlonega last Friday on a trip across the Blue Ridge.

A big strike has caused 35 paper mills to close down and the price of material to advance. So send in one dollar and get the NUGGET 12 months before the subscription price is advanced.

It was last Sunday, a mile from town he placed a couple of bottles of wine in the spring to cool till his lover arrived. She came and oh how pleasant that wine tasted to both.

Those who have renewed their subscriptions and subscribed during the past few days, will please accept our thanks. Their support is highly appreciated and we will use our best efforts to continue giving them their money's worth.

Mr. Tillman Satterfield, a former Lumpkin county boy, who is now on the snowy hills of Colorado, writes us under date of July 27th, as follows: "Find enclosed one dollar for the NUGGET. Like to have the news from Dahlonega and I can always depend on the NUGGET for it. I would hand you a 'snowball' if I had time."

As stated last week, Mr. G. G. Evans, who recently lost one of his eyes while sawing shingles, went to Atlanta to see if the ball would have to be removed to keep it from injuring the other. We are glad to say that the physician decided that it would not and Mr. Evans returned home without having to undergo the painful operation.

Not many weeks ago the would be sensational Baptist preacher at this place, gave Uncle Sam a scolding for furnishing us with a Sunday mail. And on last Sunday the Methodist preacher, who says that he "sees nothing for a railroad to come here for," appeared at the post office after his mail. Because divines do not come together on all religious matters and preach and act differently is one reason why no more good is accomplished by them.

Last week Prof. J. M. Martin, principal of the Dahlonega public school, resigned to accept a position in Atlanta as an electrical engineer for some company. This is regretted very much by his many friends here. Prof. Martin has been in charge of the public school since its establishment, four years ago, and the good he has accomplished during this period is great. His whole desire was to build up one of the best schools in Georgia. This he has done by hard work and by strict business methods. He is a high toned gentleman and makes everything pleasant wherever he goes. Success to you, professor.

The other day as a certain young man passed through Dahlonega pretty well loaded with mountain dew, a merchant remarked that he ought to be in the changang. We will admit that it looked bad, but why should poor people be sent to the changang for drinking and rich ones upheld in it? No longer than the first of last June, during commencement at the banquet, this same merchant sat at the table and dined with some of the most prominent people of the state who were so drunk that they hardly knew which end was up. He shut one eye and said nothing, because some of them were legislators who came to see about the college, one being so full he couldn't get there, and many other high toned gentlemen. This was all right.

Mrs. J. S. Stewart is now on a visit to Oxford, Ga.

Mr. Hughes Moore, after an absence of a month to Atlanta, has returned.

Mr. Bartow Montgomery is quite sick with typhoid fever at his home near Two Run.

A number of hands are expected to leave here to work on the Seaboard railroad tomorrow.

County Administrator B. F. Anderson disposed of all the household goods of Mrs. J. M. Hotelins, dec., this week.

Men are engaged now in fertilizing and sowing the drill field in grass, belonging to the college, preparatory for a nice drill ground.

Thieves have been visiting the gardens of City Marshal Harbison, Judge Brittain and others at night, relieving them of very choice beans. A mass of bullets might have a tendency to stop it.

Soon after a certain person found that his pension claim had been allowed last week he bought a pound of coffee and started out for his loved one's house instead of carrying it to his wife and children. Such persons as this should not receive any pensions, especially for desertion.

Majestic hand saws, 73c.; half gallon Mason fruit jars, $1.10 doz. Nice fresh stick candy, Blocks—the best, 23 pounds, 20c. The best stock powders and remedies, "International," guaranteed by us. Nice wide marble oil cloth, 82c. yd. Good can openers, 4c; two pint cups, 5c. Rubber tipped door stops, two for 5 cents.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

We are told that the roads on the Blue Ridge are almost impassible, is why there is no more travel from this place by the farmers residing across the mountain. A gentleman told us no longer than last week that only three or four days work were done up there on the roads a year. Yet grandjuries will meet and say that the roads are in pretty fair condition.

Last Friday a gentleman, whose son had been bound over to the next term of Dawson Superior court for misdemeanor, was up to Dahlonega endeavoring to secure witnesses to go before the grand jury in his behalf. He said the jury stated that they didn't think they would return a true bill but he wanted to be sure and have all the testimony ready next week. So it seems from this that the grand jury of Dawson tries the defendants.

The other day, soon after it was reported that a certain little girl had been outraged near town, her mother appeared before the officers with eyes full of tears asking for a warrant. The poor woman being penniless, was sent from first one to another and we don't think she ever got the warrant, being told to wait till court probably. Had she been a member of the bon ton society no delay would have been made, and she would have been given an arm full of warrants if necessary. Such as this causes lynchings sometimes.

There is talk of having meeting at the Dahlonega camp ground yet. Some want it in August while others desire it postponed until the first of October when corn, fodder and everything will be more plentiful and the weather cool and pleasant; at a time when everybody can shout and sing and serve the Lord in any manner they see proper without getting overs heat. We believe this to be a good idea, simply because we have seen it illustrated at Amicalola camp ground late in the fall when everything was plentiful and the weather pleasant. A lady while shouting there once said that she was so glad that meeting came off in the fall of the year so they could have plenty of slice potatoes and pumpkin custards to feed the poor sinners on. Now why not wait till all these good things can be abstained?

Gen. Hardin left yesterday.

Prof. Stewart is moving his household goods to Athens.

Farmers have been receiving from 75 to 80 cents per bushel for corn here this week.

For some time eggs have been retailing at ten cents a dozen in Dahlonega—rotten ones and all.

Mr. Boyd Gurley is going to build him a work shop on the corner of the lot his residence is located.

We've been having some refreshing showers this week which are very pleasing to the farmers and gardeners.

Prof. C. G. Gilbert of Ellijay, Ga., is in the city. It may be that he will be elected principal of the public school here.

Mr. Hughes Anderson writes us that he has about two hundred bushels of corn for sale out at his home place in this county.

Messrs. Sussbee and Catchings of Gainesville, were up with us awhile this week to the delight of their many friends here.

Will Satterfield of White county, was brought in by Marshal Grizzle last Tuesday, charged with moonshining, but he was discharged and went his way rejoicing.

We understand that the family of Mr. G. C. Wallace will soon move to Tennessee to join Mr. Wallace who has been there for some time doing business for Mr. Witt.

Merchant C. W. Satterfield will improve his store room now by putting in two large show windows, so he can have more light on the subject and display his goods at a better advantage.

A patent device for holding door open at any position, takes the place of a brick or rock; looks better and does not wear the carpet, 2 for 25c.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

The polls have decreased in this county since last year about 70. The demand for labor and good prices in Alabama and Tennessee this year, and Tate marble works in Georgia, has caused many to leave this as well as adjoining counties.

It seems to be a hard matter for the Telephone Co. to decide about the construction of a line from some point to Dawsonville. The third man is now on the route from New Bridge to that place, and one has been from here to Dawsonville. It is likely that a line will be built to Dawsonville via New Bridge, leaving Auraria out.

Mining Notes.

Lafayette Johnson, Sparks and others are engaged in mining the bed of Cane creek, doing very well.

Mr. Wharton Anderson keeps things moving successfully down at the Calhoun, taking out much of the yellow metal.

Under the present economical and business like management the properties of the Consolidated and Standard are paying better than at any time since its present ownership.

Judge W. W. Murray, while here is having the lines of his mining property in the 5th district located, with an eye doubtless of having some development work done at once, as he carried out some prospectors yesterday.

At Cavender's Creek they hope to have the water on the mine by the first of next week and commence placer operations. President Jones and Manager Wild have returned doubtless by this time and things up that way will soon present a lively business like appearance.

The new Ingersoll & Orison dredge boat in the Chetapeake operates like clock work and the yellow metal coming from the bed of the river is making it interesting to the owners. Later.—The hoist of the boat broke yesterday. If it can be fixed here a delay of only a short while will occur, but if the parts have to be sent off it will take some time.

Mining down at the Barlow, has been revived considerably recently. At least fifteen different parties have leases and are now engaged in taking out ore on the valuable property, much of it looking fine. Mr. Tregent informs us that he now has two giants at work and things look well. Within the past few days some six or seven dwts. in nuggets have been picked up in the cuts and a big clean up is expected, which will take place right away.

Crown Mountain plant has been shut down temporarily on account of shortage of power. Steps are being taken by the company to complete the Gorge power. As soon as this is done the company will have sufficient power to run the Crown Mountain plant continuously and six or seven hundred horse-power to sell. There is now a demand for all the surplus power the company will have when the Gorge plant is finished. This power will be in the asset of the company. The Crown Mountain Mine never looked so well as it does now. There are hundreds of tons of pay ore uncovered now in sight, but the plant cannot be successfully operated without power to run the entire plant.

After a delay of a short while, work was resumed again last Friday at the Pyrites Mine in this county, by Messrs. Pratt & Baldwin. They have engaged a larger number of hands than usual and commenced business in earnest. The delay was made so as to give the owners an opportunity to make arrangements to secure railroad facilities. This they have done and in the course of a few months we expect to see that place one of the liveliest camps in the county. They have proposed to furnish company, building a railroad to that mine a large quantity of ore each day, so as to make it of interest to them, and now work has commenced so as to enable the company to be able to carry out its contract.

For no other reason than we know of the Atlanta Journal ceased coming to this office regularly because we inserted an ad. stating that subscriptions of $3.00 per year would be received by us for the Atlanta Daily News. The Journal need not come at all any more. We can get along without it and our agency for the Atlanta Journal has ceased and those wishing to subscribe for it hereafter will have to do so through some other source.

Dr. Avis and wife are expected at the Dahlonega Hotel tomorrow.

Reflections of a Woman.

We love the people most who think about most.

A "return" of love may sometimes simply imply its rejection.

Love is a species of fascination, but fascination is not always love.

Absence may make the "heart grow fonder," but it is often of the other girl.

Women are the most sympathetic beings in the world—in some cases—in others, men.

There may be as "good fish in the sea as ever were caught out," but there are no duplicates.

Isn't it strange that a woman can't be simply friendly with some men without their falling in love with her?

There's many a man been won by a woman's smile where friendship alone was thought of on the part of the woman.

If a woman loves a man she generally sees in him ideality enough. When she marries him she discovers the reality.

Why is it that the person capable of giving the greatest happiness is capable also of causing the most intense pain?

Love may be the source of unalloyed pleasures to some, but to a great many it is the source of more pain than pleasure.

The hardest thing in the world to make a girl believe is that a man is in love with her when he pays less attention to her than to other girls.

Music has not only "charms to soothe the savage breast," but it is also one of the greatest memory-preservatives of love known to civilized man.

The most beautiful and never failing characteristic of true love is its willingness to forgive any offense, however great, committed by its object.

While a declaration of love that does not imply marriage should be considered an insult, a proposal of marriage without love is equally an insult to every right-thinking woman.

It is always a surprise to a woman to find out that a man is in love with her, and it is generally equally a surprise to the man that she reciprocates it.

As in other things, so in marrying a man never knows what he can do till he tries, and sometimes does not know then for some time to come. As goes the old proverb, "You can't always sometimes tell."—Dalton Citizen.

He Didn't Understand.

A little fellow out West Roxbury way some ten years old, perhaps twelve, bested his grandmothers the other day rather neatly. All three were at the table when one of the ladies casually mentioned the name of the family nurse. Immediately the little fellow wanted to know who the lady was. One grandma innocently remarked that it was the nurse that took care of the boy when he was born.

"But why didn't mamma take care of me? I was her baby, wasn't I?" queried the little fellow. "True," says grandma; "but you see, mamma doesn't understand how to look after little babies, particularly the first one, and we have to have nurses who have learned how in the hospitals." That seemed to settle it, but all of a sudden the little fellow blurted out: "Well, then, who took care of Cain?"—Boston Traveler.

Forgot His Wedding Day.

"We hear a good deal about the busy men of New York," said one of them, "but I have a friend in Wall street who has broken the record."

"I was in his apartment a few nights ago after the theatre, and he was chatting with me about the deals of the day, and as he chatted he was running over a bundle of memoranda. All at once he stopped as if he had been shot."

"Great Scott!" he exclaimed. "I'm to be married tomorrow to a woman in Chicago, and I had forgotten the date completely. Say, old man, come with me and help me pack up. Of course, I can't make it now to save my life, even if I hired a special engine and car, for the wedding is set for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock."

"While he began pitching his things into his trunk I wrote out a message to his sweetheart and hurried it to the telegraph office. My friend left on the first train out and after his arrival in Chicago he wired back:

"It's all right. She has the mensles."

Too Scientific.

The principal trustee of school district No. 16 was entertaining a young man fresh from college who had driven out to his home to apply for the position of teacher of the school in that district.

As they sat on the porch after dinner the trustee casually called attention to a familiar little orange colored bug with black spots on its back that was crawling on the floor.

"I suppose you know what that is?" he said.

"Yes," replied the applicant, eager to show his technical knowledge. "That is a Coccinella septempunctata."

"Young man," was the rejoinder, "a fellow that don't know a ladybug when he sees it, can't get my vote for teacher in this district."—Youths Companion.

Epitaph Too Suggestive.

A man whose cheerful occupation is that of making tombstones in telling his friends about a woman who visited his place last week and said she wanted a nice tombstone put over her husband's grave, with some short, simple inscription on it.

He asked how she would like the word "Resurgam." She inquired as to its meaning, and when he translated it as "I shall rise again," she said, in a panic. "No, no, mister; make it 'Rest in Peace.'"—New York Press.

In finding fault it is very easy to be untruthful and unfair.—Acheson Globe.

Cultivate a Good Temper.

The good tempered person numbers ten friends to the one possessed by the person who grumbles, or is cross and fault-finding. Good humor is contagious, and one doesn't in the least mind being exposed to it, in hope of catching it. The infectious spirit meets a ready response in most of us; if it does not, the cause of the whole trouble lies within ourselves. No outside remedy can aid us. A girl of this type is quickly sought after by boys for skating parties, and other pastimes, for her aid mirrors know that no mishaps will ruffle her good humor, no trivial experience cloud the serenity of her temper. She is selected before all others, and, instead of anxiously waiting for invitations, is obliged to refuse them.—Ex.

A Kentucky man is going to write the thrilling history of his life. The salient features of the story, according to his own prospectus, are that his father never spent a penny for his clothes from infancy on, that he was 13 years old before he had a pair of shoes, that in the thirty-five years of his life he has worked only thirty-five days, that he has never owned more than one book, that he never missed a meal in his life and never paid for but three, and that he has written 342 love letters and never received one. When the book of this Kentucky genius gets on the market, the historical novel will have to take a back seat.—Sav. News.

Cured

At 70 of Heart Disease Contracted

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Effected Cure.

Heart disease is curable, but in people of advanced age it does not readily lend itself to ordinary treatment. There is, however, hope for all sufferers in Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, which we know from watching hundreds of cases and from the letters of grateful sufferers, will cure where all else has failed. It is not only a wonderful cure for weak and diseased hearts, but it is a blood tonic, a regulator of the heart's action and the most effective treatment ever formulated for improving the circulation of the blood.

"During the Civil War I contracted heart disease, and in 1866, while living in the grand old town of Lexington, Va., I grew so much worse, I felt there with my wife to visit my sister-in-law, Mrs. T. A. Kirby, at Roanoke, Va. While I said nothing to anyone I never expected to live to return to the dear old town. On reaching Mrs. Kirby she insisted I should try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and I took a few bottles of it, also the Nervine and Tonic. After using one or two bottles, I could see no improvement and I desisted of ever being better, but my faithful wife insisted on keeping it up, which I did. Improvement soon began in earnest and I took in all fifteen or sixteen bottles. I was restored to perfect health and while I am 70 years old, I am comparatively a boy. A Physician Healed, Now Prescribes it Daily

Dr. Geo. Ewing, a practicing physician at Smith's Grove, Ky., for over thirty years, writes his personal experience with FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE: "For years I have been greatly bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and enlarged prostate gland. I used everything known to the profession without relief, until I commenced to use FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. After taking three bottles I was entirely relieved and cured. I prescribe it now daily in my practice and heartily recommend its use to all physicians for such troubles, for I can honestly state I have prescribed it in hundreds of cases with perfect success."

Had to Get Up Several Times Every Night
Mr. F. Arnold, Arnold, Ia., writes: "I was troubled with kidney disease about three years. I was nervous and all run down, and had to get up several times during the night, but three bottles of FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE effected a complete cure.
